

Town Employees' Salary Boost Made By Council

Wages and salaries of most of the employees of the town of Newmarket were increased this week. The increases varied from one to ten dollars a week and up to $300 per annum salaries. Included were substantial increases in the salaries of police, the town clerk and town engineer. The public health nurse's salary was increased. The police committee decided that police car allowances were more practical than buying one or more police cruisers. The chief constable and deputy chief are each allowed $520 a year for car allowance.

The police committee of the town council has been working for some time on setting out salaries and tentative recommendations had been made previously. A few weeks ago a council committee was set up to review all municipal wages and salaries and make recommendations.

Most of the increases are retroactive to March 1, some to January 1. The staff at the town clerk's office received increases of $2 per week and employees connected with the water department and road and bridge department had increases from $1 to $10 per week.

The motivation for the increases came from the police committee's meetings on salaries. Council decided that all town

SAYS MERGER DOUBLES COST IN NORTH YORK

"What's going to happen to those municipalities north of Steele's Ave. after amalgamation?" asked Reeve Clive Sinclair, Warden of York county, in a debate with Fred G. Gardiner, chairman of the Toronto and York Planning Board this week.

The northern municipalities are "the backbone of York county yet according to Mayor McCallum, they are 'apples not ripe for plucking,'" the warden said. He opposes the metropolitan area as conceived by Toronto and has urged the substitution of a county metropolitan area which would meet the problems which exist between city and suburbs while still retaining the independence and identity of the individual municipalities.

Staunch Advocate

Mr. Gardiner, himself a former warden, is a staunch advocate of the metropolitan area.

Reeve Sinclair contended that as a result of amalgamation as urged by Toronto, costs north of the proposed new city boundary would be doubled. Mayor McCallum would relegate the areas "cut loose" to tie up with Peel or Halton counties, Reeve Sinclair stated. "It is my duty as warden of York county to see these municipalities are not unjustly disregarded."

Outlining his metropolitan county plan, he maintained problems of water and sewage disposal were "incidental" and could be worked out on an equitable basis with Toronto. "The 12 municipalities worked out their own problems during the relief years of the '30's. They can still do it."

Cost Concerns All

"The cost of annexation is the concern of every taxpayer," said the reeve. "We can forget about assessments and mill rates. It's the tax dollars that will be doubled, both on private homes and on commercial buildings. Presently the cost of laying a yard of highway in York township will be one-third cheaper than in the city."

Mr. Gardiner doesn't understand the situation in a large township like Scarboro. He was reeve of the compact village of Forest Hill," he said.

If construction of arterial highways was brought under a central county council, then people living in different areas would pay only for that section running through their municipalities. Similarly costs for other services would not be levied until those services were extended into their areas.

"If we took a vote on amalgamation," asked a ratepayer, "would it have any effect on the government, or would it just be a mockery?" "It would have no effect," replied the reeve.

"Then we would have to take it whether we liked it or not," he inquired. "If the judgment of the municipal board favors amalgamation," said Reeve Sinclair, "then anyone or all can appeal the decision to the legislature."

Youth For Christ Planned in Aurora

An organizational meeting of all Aurora young people interested in an interdenominational youth movement will be held Sunday, March 19, 3:30 p.m., at Allan Cooper's home, 71 Larmonth St., Aurora. This movement is co-operative and has the support of all Aurora clergy.

A speaker to explain Youth for Christ International will attend, followed by a brief discussion period on local plans.

Province Decreases Education Grant, School Costs Up

The provincial government grant to offset maintenance costs of Newmarket schools has been reduced from 45 percent of the costs to 35 percent. The government grant for last year is $24,714, over $1,700 less than if the percentage had not been lowered, according to Robert Pritchard, secretary of the public school board at a meeting last Friday night.

Amendment to By-Law Limits Garbage Removal

No more than six bushels of garbage and no container weighing more than 50 pounds are the limits on garbage placement in Newmarket. A by-law amendment was passed in council Monday night limiting the amount of garbage to be set out by householders; it also classified garbage as well as all rejected household waste, either animal or vegetable.

Householders will pay 60 cents a month for garbage collection. Grocery stores will pay $10 and $5, according to size of business property. Those who put out only dry garbage will pay $1 a month.

Plumbers to Meet Thurs. To Talk Code Matters

A meeting of district plumbers has been called for next Thursday night in the Newmarket council chambers. Sam Dickey, Aurora, has called this second meeting of persons in the plumbing business to discuss the new provincial plumbing code. The meeting is called for 8 p.m. and representation is expected from all municipalities north of and including King, Whitchurch, Stouffville and some Aurora districts.

Many plumbers are striving to establish a district department to license plumbers and support a district plumbing inspector.

Education Plan Possible In Sept.

Under the new plan for education in Ontario schools, a pupil in a Newmarket public school would be in one room for three years. He would have the same teacher for three years. The new scheme must be in operation by September, 1951, but the school board is allowed to decide whether it will be started next September.

Although a pupil stays in the same classroom with the same teacher, it is believed that he will have a chance to progress more rapidly. Three grades will be taught in each classroom under the new system. Each room will be limited to 30 pupils.

The public school board discussed the new system for a short time at a meeting last Friday night but came to no conclusions on whether it would be started next fall. Supervising principal of the public schools, H. A. Jackson said that he would like to be better informed about the system before he could advise starting it in the fall.

Mr. Jackson said that according to his knowledge of the system, it would give students a better chance to progress rapidly. A good student could finish his work in a grade and pass on into the next grade before the school year was completed. Some students who excelled in some subjects and were poor in others could go on into the next grade and review their poor subjects with the back grade if it were in the same room.

The new system would offer more opportunities for individual teaching, Mr. Jackson said. In some ways it is like reverting to the rural school system. Only one member of the board who voiced disapproval of starting in September was Mrs. C. A. Curtiss. She said that in one way, she could not see the pupils staying under one teacher for three years would be a good thing. In most other ways, the system had advantages, she said.

The schools would all have to be rearranged and equipped with suitable furnitures for different age levels in each room.

Members of the board agreed that more information about the working of the system should be acquired before any decision is made to start it this year.

The advance registration for pupils starting school in the fall will be held earlier this year, near the end of April or early part of May, according to Mr. Jackson.

THIS IS A SURE SIGN OF SPRING!

Sure sign of spring is the gladsome sight of pussy willows unfolding their cloaks as winter's grip relaxes. This beautiful bouquet held here by Gland Morrow, is just a few of the many that are now well out, bringing more than a hint of things to come. Several weeks ago the pussy willows appeared but they retreated during the recent cold snap in southern Ontario.

Red Cross Branch Elects Officers, Drive Continues

Mrs. G. E. Case was re-elected president of the Newmarket branch of the Red Cross at the annual meeting which was held in Trinity United church on Tuesday. The meeting had earlier been postponed because of bad weather, and instead of the usual guest speaker, members gathered to sew.

Other officers are past pres., Mrs. W. R. Stephens; first vice pres., Miss E. Robertson; second vice pres., Mrs. W. M. Cockburn; sec., Miss L. Starr; treas., Miss Connie Smith; welfare, Mrs. Allan Cody; advisory committee, Miss N. Holladay, Mrs. J. Booth, Mrs. Ken Sliver, Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, Mrs. W. L. Bosworth, Mrs. E. Morton, John Meyer. Campaign chairman is A. C. Lord.

Outlining his metropolitan county plan, he maintained problems of water and sewage disposal were "incidental" and could be worked out on an equitable basis with Toronto. "The 12 municipalities worked out their own problems during the relief years of the '30's. They can still do it."

Cost Concerns All

"The cost of annexation is the concern of every taxpayer," said the reeve. "We can forget about assessments and mill rates. "Then we would have to take it whether we liked it or not," he inquired. "If the judgment of the municipal board favors amalgamation," said Reeve Sinclair, "then anyone or all can appeal the decision to the legislature."

PICKERING PRESENTS G.S. 'GONDOLIERS'

The Gondoliers, a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, is being presented by the Glee club at Pickering College tonight and Friday and Saturday nights. The sixty members of the cast include Alice Rourke, Maire Jackson, Elizabeth Beer and the Newmarket Girls' Chorus. The show starts at 8 p.m. each night.

The Gondoliers is under the direction of the headmaster, R. E. K. Rourke, as usual. Mr. Rourke is also playing the part of the Duke of Plaza-Toro in the manner which is well known to Newmarket audiences.

Mr. Paynter said that he could not support the by-law. "First of all, $55,000 is too much money to put into repairs on the town hall and that is at cost plus. It might very well be $55,000 when it is finished." The debenture calls for $65,000 to ensure for costs which would go over the town engineer's estimates.

Tickets for the performances are on sale at the Best Drug Store and may also be obtained at the College.

Completion of Survey Shows 87 Percent Tested

The diabetes survey in Newmarket has been completed and final figures show that 87 percent of the population was tested for diabetes.

Although there have been no official figures released from medical officials in charge of the survey, it is reported that from 23 to 30 people in Newmarket were found to have diabetes. Some of these were already known cases.

At a meeting of the board of health last Tuesday, a vote of thanks was passed "to the women of the town who worked so hard in organizing the town for the diabetes survey."

DAVIE WINS ROGERS' CUP AS TOP SCORER

On the basis of statistics issued at the end of the regular schedule, at least two of the trophies striven for by the Trolley League teams have found a home. The Harold Rogers' Trophy to the league's leading scorer will go to Ken Davie, Sutton's deluxe pivot man. Davie gained it via 23 goals and 40 assists for a 63 point mark. His nearest rival was Bill Johnston, centre of the Spits, who came up with an impressive 36 goals and 23 assists for a 59 total.

Commenting on the progress of the campaign, Mrs. Case said that the canvassers were on the streets, and while there was as yet no report on their progress, she was hopeful of reaching the objective.

"We must make every effort to do our part," she warned. "The success of the drive here is an indication of our faith in

RAY MARSHALL

The writing is on the wall. It is there for all to see. For the past few weeks I have been giving you a review of the poultry situation. The situation today is still unchanged and government reports just released would indicate that chick sales are even lower than I had forecast. What does this mean to you?

The floor price was placed under eggs last January and everyone expected that the government would be stuck with a large quantity of storage eggs next fall. At the time of writing, it would appear that they have no eggs on their hands, nor anyone else. The lower egg prices have been an incentive to the housewife to use more eggs, with the result that instead of huge piles of eggs going into storage they are practically all being eaten fresh.

What will be the egg situation next fall? I do not pretend to be a prophet, but it would appear to me now, that with little storage eggs and a 30 percent decrease in chick sales, a shortage will develop. It was thought for a while that we could import eggs from the U.S.A. if necessary, but almost every state in the union is hatching from ten to 25 percent less chicks. They are likely to be short also. So if we import, it will have to be at a high price.

KESWICK

The Evening Auxiliary will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Orvan Huntley on Tuesday evening, March 21. Hostesses, Mrs. Gordon Stevenson and Mrs. R. Whittaker.

Miss Lynn Marratt left Keswick on Friday for Toronto and on Sunday left for California accompanied by her niece, Miss Myrtle Lloyd, Toronto. They are making an extended visit to relatives in California, returning via the Canadian west for a visit with friends there.

Quite a number from Keswick attended the funeral in Queen's Park on Monday, March 13, of Mr. Eli Wright. The service was held at the Strasler Funeral Parlors. He leaves his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Milton Cook (Myrna), Toronto.

Mrs. Jack Cameron is improving after being on the sick list all of last week.

Others on the sick list with several colds are Mr. Freeman Pollock, Mrs. S. Kennedy and also Miss Roslyn Van Norman who was ill last week but is teaching again this week.

Mrs. George Yeats is in York County Hospital. We wish her a speedy return to health.

The Christian church is holding its monthly missionary meeting March 17 and after the meeting a social time featuring music and games.

While we still have plenty of snow the days are milder and sunny at time of writing.

Union prayer service will be held next Wednesday evening in the Christian church.

The Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. will meet next Tuesday, March 21, at the home of Mrs. Orvan Huntley. An interesting program has been planned with Mrs. Large as guest speaker. Mrs. Gordon Stevenson and Mrs. Bob Whittaker will be the hosts.

On Monday evening, March 6, Mrs. Ken Boothby, Mrs. Gordon Carr, Mrs. Ramsay Weddell, Mrs. Jim Porter and Mrs. Erwin Winch attended an Evening Auxiliary supper meeting in Deer Park United church, Toronto.

Mrs. Longley, missionary in China for 40 years, was the special speaker and Mrs. Collelo, supply secretary, spoke of the urgent need of clothing and bedding and especially quilts. Keswick ladies were given special applause because they had travelled the greatest distance to attend.

Next Monday evening, March 20, is the United church W.A. supper and entertainment. A splendid program has been arranged with Mr. Ken Boothby and Miss Dorothy Rye, soloists, beautiful slides shown by the Downham nurseries of Bowmanville and the film of Bonnie Prince Charles.

Mrs. George Campbell visited her family in Toronto last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bothwell, Toronto.

THEY BRING
RESULTS*End of Means Test,
Pension Age of 65
Begins By East Gwill.The regular monthly meeting of East Gwillimbury council was held in Sharon Hall March 4. The members were all present.
The reeve and deputy reeve were appointed a committee to purchase the old Tate blacksmith shop and land adjoining.

The council passed a resolution petitioning the dominion government to lower the old age pension age to 65 on a contributory basis and abolish the means test. This resolution was passed in sympathy with the steel workers and other labor groups who are at present requesting that the above regulations be put into force during the present session of parliament.

As a result of action taken by the county and other municipalities, requesting the federal and provincial governments to assume 100 percent of the relief cost, the council by resolution requested each government to assume 40 percent and the local municipality 20 percent. The council maintains that controls should be kept within the local municipality.

The closing day for the court of revision on the Second Street drainage scheme has been set for March 11. The Queensville park board as approved by the council is as follows, Mrs. J. L. Smith, Arthur Alexander, Stanley Eves, Allan Balsdon, Longford Pegg, Titus Peregrine and Angus Smith.

The Ontario government dental grant has been distributed among the schools qualifying amounting to $259.35. A grant of $200 was given to the Federation of Agriculture.

Casual notes on the purchase of a cigaret holder: We have been bothered somewhat by the way smoke from our cigarettes curls into our eyes. The remedy seemed to be a cigaret holder which would keep the weed a good distance away.

As is the fashion of a male considering such an important purchase, we have given considerable thought to the matter. Monday, we made our decision and purchased a holder for 50 cents. We had expected some comment from the rowdier elements of the office. We had not expected the following:

Walking from Adams Barber Shop to the office, we were stopped six times with the query: "Trying to get away from cigarettes?" and four times, we were asked if we were planning a trip to Hollywood. Three friends didn't recognize us.

The cigaret holder was greeted at home with unseemly laughter from the spouse which so agitated us that in trying to explain, we knocked the blame thing to the floor.

We are clinging grimly to the holder (it does keep the smoke out of our eyes) but it is used only behind barred doors.

A year ago last July, young Allan Greenwood had an accident which cost him his left foot. Last week, Allan was skating with the best of them down at the arena.

Most readers are familiar with Allan's story, how after his accident his friends rallied and raised a fund for his education, how he lay through the hot summer months at the Sick Children's hospital, how patiently and slowly, he retraced his way to health.

The Editorials:

Business Commission

The cycle of the organization and disbanding of successive Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade is adequate evidence of the inability of Newmarket businessmen to act on their own behalf. No business community can afford to be without some organization which can speak for and act on behalf of its member businessmen. An active, enterprising businessman's organization is synonymous with a prosperous business community.

Since the repeated failure of Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade in Newmarket defeat a fresh attempt before it is begun, there seems to us only one choice left, that of a municipal commission, appointed by council and financed either from the general tax rate or from a special levy on businessmen. If such a proposition appears to favor a special interest, the businessmen, remember that the prosperity of Newmarket depends just as surely upon a flourishing business community as it does upon the industrial payrolls. Everyone suffers if Newmarket's position as a business centre is impaired as it will be unless steps are taken to protect it.

The town council maintains, as part of its organization, an industrial committee whose function was primarily concerned with the locating in Newmarket of new industry. If such a committee were broadened by the appointment of representative businessmen, and the committee given a status of a commission and financed by the town, its scope could easily be extended to cover all business interests. Within its jurisdiction would fall such matters as publicizing Newmarket as a business centre by signs on the highways, facilitating the location here of new business endeavors, advising on holiday observances and store closing times, encouraging the farmers' market, and the numerous other activities which if brought to a successful conclusion would benefit all of Newmarket's businessmen and through them, everyone in the town.

If necessary, such a commission could employ a permanent secretary, as is the practice in other municipalities, to handle routine business while the commission concerns itself primarily with policy and direction.

Business communities flourish as a result of a happy geographical location, the proximity of natural resources, a situation on a well travelled route, the establishment of a large industry and for many other reasons. These causes have all contributed somewhat to Newmarket's growth and will continue to influence it. There is not, however, any record of a municipality which flourished simply because of them. There must be added an unremitting effort to encourage business in that community. Newmarket businessmen do not act together in this purpose and their individual efforts are not enough. Unless they do act, or unless the action is taken on their behalf, their businesses will eventually suffer and the whole town will suffer with them.

Red Cross: For Emergency

During the next two weeks or so, volunteers will canvass the households in Newmarket and district for contributions towards the Red Cross objective of $1,000. It is not too much to ask that they be greeted in a friendly manner and that their request for assistance be granted with a donation large or small. The need is always great and every cent contributed helps to meet it.

The Red Cross is sometimes handicapped by a misunderstanding of its purpose. The Red Cross is essentially an emergency organization. It does not wait for disaster to strike before undertaking preparations to assist the victims. It tries to anticipate disaster by preparing against that eventuality in advance. It builds up its stock of blood plasma. It furnishes its hospital cupboards. It maintains cots and blankets and ready sources of food supplies so that when disaster does strike, whether fire or flood or famine, it is able to act at once.

When the Noronic burned, the Red Cross did not have to delay while its members were organized and its supplies gathered. The Red Cross was able to act at the first word of the tragedy. Such promptness requires well trained organization and supplies on hand. Advance preparation means a heavy investment. But the immediate action of the Red Cross means the saving of lives.

Apart from its emergency work, the Red Cross has sustaining work on behalf of veterans, in the maintenance of its outpost hospitals, in its establishment of blood plasma banks. Here again, were it not for the work of the Red Cross, lives would be lost, tragedy unopposed.

Your contribution to the Red Cross is divided between national and local activities. All emergencies are not on the scale which makes newspaper headlines. Assistance has been frequently given locally to homes without funds, food or fuel, until relief authorities or other municipal services can be contacted. Or possibly it is a withdrawal of sick room supplies for an individual in need. These are the local services. But should the demand for them exceed the local branch's ability to provide, then there is the full weight of the national organization to draw upon.

The Red Cross is a worthy cause. The Red Cross does for us what anyone of us would do if we were on the scene of the disaster. Our contribution is our evidence of good faith.

Heavy Expenditure

The estimated total expenditures of $500,000 or more proposed by Newmarket council should not come as a surprise. Most of the members, when seeking office, gave ample indication of their intention to spend on roads, sidewalks, municipal building, etc. The decisions being made now had their origin mostly on nomination night and were confirmed on election day.

There is always a tendency to oppose major expenditures while agreeing to their need. It has been a tendency often obvious in council proceedings of other years. The decision to spend on roads, for example, has been pending three years or so since Reeve Arthur Evans first made his recommendations for resurfacing and repair. Many factors contributed to the postponement of this work, some of them unavoidable, others not. A reluctance to spend such a large sum, however, was very real.

But past history forgotten, this year's council is to be congratulated on its willingness to assume the responsibility of these expenditures. Its decision has the real approval of a majority of the electors. A new municipal building, improved roads and sidewalks, the new wing for the high school (in which Newmarket's share is small although the debenture for the whole cost is taken out by the town), and other municipal improvements have been long required, and the public recognizes that it must pay for them.

But while according the approval that these projects merit, it should not be forgotten that their cost might have been a good deal less had the public and councils in the past accepted the need for spending instead of concerning themselves exclusively with the reduction of the debenture debt. There is no stigma attached to a debenture debt. Since municipal bodies are prevented from accumulating surpluses against future expenditures, the only way a municipality can finance large projects is by debentures. A debenture becomes a very real index of progress since it indicates investment in improved municipal facilities.

Facts Of Trade

Most of us are prepared to admit, in theory at least, that trade "is a two-way street", that we must buy if we are to sell. The economic facts of this proposition, as inviting as it may seem, can be downright discouraging as the manufacturers of shirts in Canada have discovered. The shirt manufacturers and labor representatives are protesting the importation of Japanese shirts into Canada for sale here at a price far lower than the domestic product sells for. Labor says that the sale of the shirts, manufactured with the cheap labor to be found in Japan, is undermining the Canadian standard of living. Yet it is equally obvious that if Japan is to buy Canadian products, it must have the funds, funds earned by the sale of shirts and other products.

Canada manufactures or produces far more than it can sell on its own market. It must export to prosper. Its markets to be of value, must have funds, funds earned by the sale of their products on the Canadian markets. Canada, with the United States, enjoys the highest standard of living in the world, a standard of living established and maintained by wages paid its workers. Japan, and other foreign markets, with low living standards and abundance of cheap labor, are in a position to sell products of relative value on Canadian markets far below normal Canadian prices.

Tariff and import restrictions can protect Canadian markets from invasions from abroad but to what end? Restrict the sale of foreign goods on Canadian markets and ultimately, the sale of Canadian goods on foreign markets is restricted by the lack of funds to buy. Time and necessity will eventually compromise this intolerable situation but not before every part of the Canadian economy has undergone some adjustment. That fact must be accepted.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Catnips By Ginger

A strange new cult has been established in Newark, N.J. Most strange new cults start in California. The head of this new cult, the Zoomites, is head Zoom Jack Goldie. The Zoomites, who believe that the world will end in four years in an H-bomb attack, announced last Sunday that the world will go "underground" on April 7, 1954, to avoid atomic destruction.

The Zoomites believe that they are sufficiently unique in their beliefs to wear red robes, distinguishing themselves from the rest of humanity which lacks such exacting atomic foresight.

The reasons for the Zoomites believing that atomic destruction will occur in four years, not sooner, not later, have not been released to our knowledge. It is not known whether all Zoomites wake up one morning with this startling revelation of atomic disaster ahead or whether it is the work of an eccentric promoter. The whole issue is no doubt a result of recent publicity on "whom would you like to survive best in a cave if the world blew up" and such nonsense.

"Don't you want to be saved?" said I. "People are getting into too much of a flap about the world blowing up. My cousin said so. My cousin Henry is a doctor but no ordinary one. Do you know what kind of a doctor he is?"

"Horse?" "No he is one of them biocologists. He says that if everybody starts thinking that civilization will be blown up, that's bad. It will undermine civilization spiritually and it will fall into chaos and aggregation," he said. "Anyway, I am digging my own cave under my store and lining it with lead," said the merchant.

The Top Six Inches

One of our members of parliament made a statement that labor and farmers had sacrificed their individualism for organized security. They feared what might happen if they stood alone, he said.

For discussion, suppose we say that industry and capital are one. Where the dividing line is, we don't know. Some time back, this group also was fearful and today, we have one of the strongest organizations in Canada, the manufacturer's association.

To follow out this line of thought, the manufacturer's association should be number one fear group, labor two and the farmer number three. How do those pressure or fear groups work? Everyone knows how the farmer works. We call a convention. From every county in Ontario comes the farm people. We start in. Reporters and broadcasters tell everything we do. Everyone is welcome. What we are doing is no secret.

Labor has been longer in organization than the farmer and may have learned things. Labor meetings are not so open as the farmer's. The number one group, the manufacturer's association—well, who knows how they work? We know there is plenty of weight behind this group. If there is such a thing as fear in these groups, it may be that the manufacturer's association is afraid of the strength of labor and farmer.

We pay our members of parliament to think out the problems of our country — not to make sarcastic remarks about labor and farmers.

The farm marketing act gives the farmers the right to market their own hogs. There is 90 percent of our hogs just dumped at the packing plants by the farmers. This puts the packers in a very favored position to the disadvantage of the farmers.

Our marketing is going to be a large contract. We are going to need more money—the producers of hogs may be called on for 5 cents per hog instead of two cents. Would the whole milk producers return to the old system of selling? They would not! And if such a thing were suggested as doing away with the whole milk producers' collective bargaining power, the farmers would be up in arms. There will always be some farmers that cannot see ahead and we will have to contend with them and carry them along. Cheerio.

Newmarket Lodge at Orphanage

The Newmarket public schools depart from their usual custom of holding an open house at this time of year in favor of a special "Public Schools Supplement" contained in this issue.

The supplement is mostly the work of the students. It contains essays and short stories, verse and other writing efforts of all grades in all three schools. We believe readers will share our admiration and respect for the quality of the work of the students, and the pleasure we have had in reading it.

It is too soon of course to suggest that this become a regular procedure. Certain mechanical problems must be considered. For this issue, however, we are very pleased to recommend this departure from the normal weekly issue and suggest, that if you have enjoyed it as we think you will, and if you share our pride in the accomplishments of the pupils, you will write us about it. And should you feel there are grounds for criticism, we hope you will not be hesitant in telling us.

Our New Canadians

This is one of a series of biographies of New Canadians who have located in the Newmarket district. Fictitious names are used because some of them still have relatives in Europe and fear they will suffer retaliatory measures. Others wish to keep their whereabouts unknown to Canadian authorities in their native land.

The subjects of these biographies represent a cross-section of New Canadians. They are printed here so that readers may know their new neighbors better, and in their stories, find a new appreciation of Canada.

This is the fourth in the series of case histories of New Canadians which The Era and Express is printing as a regular weekly feature. It is the story of Anna, born in the Ukraine, victim of German slave labor camps, seeking a new life in Canada.

Anna's story does not vary greatly with the story of hundreds of thousands of victims of Nazi doctrines of total war. She was born in a small farming community in the Ukraine and attended the local school.

When the Nazi advance rolled over her town, as it rolled over hundreds of small Ukrainian farming communities, Anna was snatched from her parents and taken to Germany. With less consideration than is generally shown farm animals, she was allocated to an Austrian farm where for five years she worked in virtual slavery. The American advance freed her and for two years, she was in a D.P.

They are a happy and hopeful pair, building together a foundation for a new life in Canada. They have not decided what they will do when their contracts expire as they will shortly, but there is no question of their desire to become Canadian citizens and contribute their share to the country which gave them safe haven after the misery of the war years.

They know they must work hard to make a place for themselves and they are quite prepared to do so. That they should have this opportunity is a cause for constant gratitude.

OTTAWA LETTER
by Jack Smith, M.P.
North York

International affairs continue to hold top place in governmental circles as is evidenced by the keen interest in every statement in the house by Canada's secretary of state for external affairs. In this capacity Canada is well served by Hon. Lester B. Pearson, whose high qualifications for his present post is well recognized by members of all parties in the house and by the people of Canada.

Already this session Mr. Pearson has given two full-dress reviews of the international situation which have been listened to with interest by an attentive house and well filled galleries. For his pronouncements, all top-ranking diplomats attend and occupy seats in the diplomatic gallery. Canada is taking an increasingly important part in world affairs and today has diplomatic representation in 33 countries. There are 14 full-fledged embassies, eight legations and six high commissioners' offices.

The main responsibilities of diplomatic missions abroad are to inform the Canadian government of events in the country in which they are situated, and to interpret their significance, also to safeguard Canadian interests, assist in spreading accurate information about Canada and to represent the government of Canada formally and informally on all occasions. Right now in international circles a top rating problem concerns the formal recognition of the new communist government in China. There is much to be said on both sides of the recognition question and the Canadian government is proceeding in the matter with the utmost caution. However, it would appear likely that recognition of the new regime cannot be much longer delayed.

Budget Coming Soon
Parliament faces a busy week three weeks before the Easter recess which will commence April 6. The throne speech debate has concluded with no surprises and the disposal of opposition amendments. The all-important budget is expected soon and before March 31 the commons will authorize extension of rental control. The main estimates have been brought down and are now receiving careful consideration. They total $2,303,000,000 and show an increase mainly from increased defence expenditures. There has been little to indicate a likelihood of anything but minor changes in taxation for the coming year. Income tax will likely remain at present level.

A Canadian Flag
A resolution to come before this parliament asks that consideration be given to the appointment of a special committee to report on the choice of a distinctive Canadian flag. A similar committee met a few years ago and considered thousands of suggestions for a suitable design. The committee failed to reach agreement on a design and I think, judging by representations made to me and letters received, this goes for the country as well as parliament.

Last Friday evening a jolly bus load of women jitneyed down to The Loyal True Blue and Orange Home, Yonge St. near Richmond Hill, and appropriately enough it was the orange-colored school bus that took us. It was in the nature of a social evening for the children of the orphanage, arranged by the members of the Loyal True Blues of Newmarket, under the convesnorship of Mrs. Wilbert Boardwin, Niagara St.

We were greeted by the matron, Miss Nisbitt, who came out from Scotland in January of this year to fill the position. Miss Nisbitt and her staff made marvellous hostesses with the help of the lodge members. After removing our wraps in the handsome board room we were taken to the concert room downstairs, and the program got underway. It is a large, commodious room, with a stage across the south end, and green stage curtains that extend from wall to wall. There are plenty of seats and good lighting, two pianos, as well as a permanent screen for showing lantern pictures.

Bright, Happy Group

The children were such a bright, happy group—the girls in school uniform of black jumpers with white blouses, white stockings and strap slippers—the boys all so neat, polite and pleasant. The children put on the first part of the program, and while handicapped by the absence of their teacher and accompanist, they went ahead on their own, and acquitted themselves splendidly. There were songs in groups and quartets, plays, dances, and a dialogue, by both boys and girls. The children enjoyed it as much as we did. Mr. McMarras' Band was delightful, done by a group of small girls, one with a sort of fog horn on which she occasionally blew a blast. They were all in varied majorette costumes, and since their music was not available, they sang the accompaniment, and sang it well too. They had to sing their own accompaniment to all their numbers, and really it was charming. It must have been none too easy to clog dance to your own singing.

Playlet

The little playlet was comical—just two players—Aunt Susan and the nephew. Aunt Susan is sitting at a table when her nephew comes in looking all over for his baseball bat—then asks his Aunt Susan, who suggests he search in his pocket which looks as if it might be there it is so full. So she makes him unload his pocket, and of all the stuff he takes out and lays on the table—very hesitatingly. He is very loath to hand over the last treasure, but she insists and even gets up and shakes him by the shoulders till he finally hands it over—and it's a mouse. She gives a shriek and throws it down into the audience. It was really a splendid program and wonderfully staged.

Then the program arranged by Mrs. Boardwin for the entertainment of the children was next. Mrs. Len Little, accompanied by Mrs. Allan Mills sang "Because You Kissed Me Good-Night" and "Caroline". Miss Violet Curtis gave several selections on her piano-accordion to the delight of the little folks and Michael Murphy, about 9 or 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Murphy, gave a couple of humorous recitations which captivated his hearers.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor: On behalf of the staff and pupils of the Newmarket public schools I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and your capable staff for the co-operation you have given in the enterprise which we have undertaken. For your ready acquiescence in our plans, your visits to the schools and arrangement of the copy submitted, the expense incurred in providing space in your paper and procuring photographs, and all the extra time and labor involved, we desire to express our sincere appreciation.

Newmarket Public Schools,
H. A. Jackson,
Supervising Principal,

The Editor: The editorial on floor prices for farm products in your issue of March 9, together with many such comments reaching us via press and radio, tends to stir up a resentment which has hitherto been foreign to the thinking of many of us who till the soil and feed the stock.

We farmers are not looking for a hand-out, but we are asking and expecting the government to redeem its pledged word to us in this matter.

We made no kick when, in its effort to bring about world peace, our government sold our wheat for a lot less than we would have received had it been sold on the open market.

ada should have an officially recognized flag, and I think, this view is pretty generally supported by public opinion throughout Canada. There is, however, no sign of unanimity on a design and I think, judging by representations made to me and letters received, this goes for the country as well as parliament.

The co-operators of Whitchurch township have set us a good example which the writer sincerely hopes will be followed by every township in Ontario.

Robt. Knights,
Queensville, Ont.
March 13, 1950.

young hearers, as well as us older ones.

Then came what the children enjoyed most of all, a magician—Mr. Scott from England—a relative of the matron's, who came again at her request to entertain us all—and he succeeded beyond expectations, for young and old were delighted. When he was trying to get a bunny out of the hat it turned out to be a skunk, which climbed up around his neck and finally after several attempts, he shut it in a box and then it vanished completely. Mr. Scott with Michael and a little girl resident, certainly kept us entertained right royally for over half an hour. It was magic and no mistake and we all loved it. It ended with the magician finally, after many adventures, locating Mrs. Boardwin's wrist watch in Michael's inner pocket.

Next came supper in the huge dining-room, which could easily accommodate 150 to 200. The children sang grace, and before the matron dismissed them they sang the Lord's Prayer. They were the best behaved group of children I have ever seen.

Then we were taken on a tour of the building—and that was thoroughly enjoyed as well. It was a big surprise to those who never before had been inside. It has a beautiful board room with its leather upholstered chairs and large polished table, comfortable chairs and chesterfields. On the mantel of a huge fireplace are about a dozen trophies won by the children, and at either end, elaborate carved walnut candlesticks, about 15 inches high. Here and there are ferns and other plants. Across the corridor is the library, a wonderful room with book cases full of books and handsome pictures and five or six lovely models of ships—old sailing ships and Spanish galleons. I'd love to be turned loose for a few hours in that room to really see its treasures.

Downstairs are the inside playrooms and the children's out-door clothing—everything so neat and tidy. Then we were taken upstairs to the dormitories—the children were in bed and delighted to have us go and visit them. The small ones each have a cherished doll or teddy bear or a stuffed animal—which they can take to bed with them. Then there are the dressing-rooms and lockers, bathrooms and a row of stationary wash-basins. The beds not occupied are all made up, with attractive quilts or bed-spreads, and a doll or other bedtime toy reclining on the pillow. They all have individual beds. Then there is the hospital—and besides that, the isolation hospital, all glassed in—a separate unit in itself; and a most attractive little chapel for religious instruction. We hear that Rev. W. F. Rixon of St. Mary's Anglican church, Richmond Hill, goes there three times a week and that the children all love him.

It was an evening enjoyed by everyone—visitors and visitors—and the matron and staff also expressed their pleasure at the evening's entertainment. I feel that the children who are lucky enough (while unlucky, should I say) to call it home, will regret it when the time comes to leave, for a more comfortable place to live would be hard to find, and their bright, happy faces tell the tale of sympathy and understanding on the part of the matron and her helpers. It certainly deserves all the support we can give it, as we who were guests all agreed.

Then the program arranged by Mrs. Boardwin for the entertainment of the children was next. Mrs. Len Little, accompanied by Mrs. Allan Mills sang "Because You Kissed Me Good-Night" and "Caroline". Miss Violet Curtis gave several selections on her piano-accordion to the delight of the little folks and Michael Murphy, about 9 or 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Murphy, gave a couple of humorous recitations which captivated his hearers.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor: On behalf of the staff and pupils of the Newmarket public schools I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and your capable staff for the co-operation you have given in the enterprise which we have undertaken. For your ready acquiescence in our plans, your visits to the schools and arrangement of the copy submitted, the expense incurred in providing space in your paper and procuring photographs, and all the extra time and labor involved, we desire to express our sincere appreciation.

Newmarket Public Schools,
H. A. Jackson,
Supervising Principal,

The Editor: The editorial on floor prices for farm products in your issue of March 9, together with many such comments reaching us via press and radio, tends to stir up a resentment which has hitherto been foreign to the thinking of many of us who till the soil and feed the stock.

We farmers are not looking for a hand-out, but we are asking and expecting the government to redeem its pledged word to us in this matter.

We made no kick when, in its effort to bring about world peace, our government sold our wheat for a lot less than we would have received had it been sold on the open market.

ada should have an officially recognized flag, and I think, this view is pretty generally supported by public opinion throughout Canada. There is, however, no sign of unanimity on a design and I think, judging by representations made to me and letters received, this goes for the country as well as parliament.

The co-operators of Whitchurch township have set us a good example which the writer sincerely hopes will be followed by every township in Ontario.

Robt. Knights,
Queensville, Ont.

PLEASANTVILLE

Little Miss Donna Forbes, Oshawa, was a guest last week at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Chas. Toole, because of the death of her grandfather, Mr. Batters Ingersons.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sheridan and Mary had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. D. Harrison and family of Aurora.

Guests for Sunday dinner at the home of Mr. Earl Toole were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Taylor, Kenneth and Grant Taylor, Cedar Brae.

Mrs. D. McClure and Miss Joyce VanLuvan visited Mr. and Mrs. David Coates at Sharon on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glover and family were Sunday night tea guests of the latter's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. Gardiner, in Toronto.

Mr. E. Madill was called to Clermont on Wednesday of last week to look after his two brothers who were ill.

Mrs. Elmer Starr left on Thursday for Columbiania, Ohio, to spend some time there with her two daughters, Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Cope, and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Greenwood, Mr. and Roland Lundy had Friday dinner at the home of Mr. H. Cole, Ravenvale.

Miss Joan Tidman and Miss G. Rawlick, Pine Orchard, were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. McClure.

On Monday night, March 20, the farm forum meeting will be held at the Greenwood home.

Pleased to report Harry Hunt is able to be home from the hospital but his mother still continues ill at home. We all wish Mrs. Colville speedy recovery from her illness.

Miss Mary Sheridan had Monday night tea with little Miss Dody Widdifield and Mrs. G. McClure.

SHARON

Mr. Russel Donaldson has been attending a V.L.A. conference at Niagara Falls the past two weeks.

Mrs. Eugene Farr spent a few days in Buffalo this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Deavitt spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Deavitt.

Mr. Elmer Morton, Tisdale, Sask., visited Miss Nora Shaw on Monday.

ZEPHYR

A bus load of hockey fans went from Zephyr to Minden to watch the game between Cannington and Minden. Cannington defeated Minden in the round. Score was 12-7.

A pot-luck dinner and quilting under the auspices of the W.M.S. United church was held in the Community Hall on Wednesday. There was a good attendance and all report an enjoyable time. Three quilts were quilted for the W.M.S. bale.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rynard returned home after spending a few days in Toronto.

We are glad to report that both Rev. and Mrs. Bamford, who are in Western hospital, are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Parker and Peggy, Weston, called on Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Galbraith on Sunday.

A pot-luck dinner and quilting was held at the Presbyterian church last Thursday. Although the day was very cold and stormy, there was a goodly number present and all report a good time.

Mr. Raymond Bartlett is busy painting the United church Sunday school room.

The United church service was held in the Community hall on Sunday evening. Mr. Dave Elliott took charge of the service in the absence of Rev. Mr. Bamford.

We are glad to report that Mr. Howard Snowdon, who took suddenly ill, is improving.

The Women's Institute meeting was held in the Community hall on Wednesday afternoon with the grandmothers of the community in charge of the program.

But now a word just among ourselves, neighbors. If we farmers want to improve our position and get a fair price for our butter, eggs and pork, etc., we must do as our city friends have done, and organize.

Co-operation is the answer to our troubles. We must work together. We have good leaders such as Herb Hannan, Kingsley Brown and Bert Savage, but we must take time to definitely study the situation and do something for ourselves in co-operation with them.

Let us not be sceptical of the leadership offered but rather seek to become informed as to what we can do to remedy our troubles. Hitherto we have inclined too much to the individualistic idea. We are individuals but we must co-operate if we wish to avoid a repetition of the depression experiences of the early nineteen thirties.

The co-operators of Whitchurch township have set us a good example which the writer sincerely hopes will be followed by every township in Ontario.

VANDORF

Congratulations to Mr. H. A. Switzer and Mr. W. D. Richardson who celebrate their birthdays this month.

Mr. G. E. Richardson attended the funeral of a friend, Mr. Johnson, Bobcaygeon, on Saturday. Mr. Bob Staley and Mr. Bill Kingdon accompanied Mr. Richardson as far as Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Mr. Clayton Pogue and Miss Ada Pogue left on Sunday morning on the Purina Co. experimental farm tour to St. Louis, Missouri, U.S.A.

Congratulations to Mrs. Walter Garham who won a prize on the Homemakers' club program on Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Shapter are out again after being ill.

Mount Albert hockey boys returned home from the game at Queen's last week in rather bad shape with cuts and bruises. Too bad a game of hockey has to turn into a real battle. Poor sports, eh?

Miss Joan Ewen, Holt, spent the weekend with her aunt, Mrs. J. Irwin, and Mr. Irwin and

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Fit. Sgt. C. T. Johnson, R217737, missing March 22, 1945. Found and buried four years later with his crew in Rheinberg British military cemetery, Duisberg, Germany. Though his smile is gone forever, And his hand we cannot touch; Still we have so many memories Of the one we loved so much. His memory is our keepsake With which we'll never part; God has him in his keeping. We have him in our hearts. Sadly missed by his mother, father, sisters and brothers and their families.

MacKinnon—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Wellington MacKinnon (Mabel Curl), who passed away March 13, 1945. She is gone, but not forgotten.

And as dawns another year; In our lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of her are always near.

Lovingly remembered by her daughter Annie, Howard and children.

Playter—In loving memory of our dear son, John Watson Clark Playter, who passed away March 12, 1941. Nothing can ever take away

The love our hearts hold dear, Fond memories linger every day, Remembrance keeps him near.

Sadly missed by daddy and mother, his sister Mildred, and Frank and many relatives.

Price—In loving memory of a dear dad, Benjamin Price, who passed away March 20, 1946. 'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again.

Where troubles are no more, And that the one we loved so well Has just gone on before.

Sadly missed by sons and daughters.

Smith—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. James Smith, of Uxbridge, who passed away March 4, 1949. Though her smile has gone forever.

And her hand we cannot touch; Still we have so many memories Of the one we loved so much. Her memory is our keepsake With which we'll never part, God has her in his keeping. We have her in our hearts. Sadly missed by her daughter Ethel and family.

It Happened in Newmarket

By HOWARD MORTON

Last night I saw an exhibition of skill and precision, with a heavy calibre handgun, which would put any Western gunman, of legend or movie fame, really out of the running.

This chap, by patience and perseverance, had developed his ability that he was able to fire 50 rounds from his heavy .38 calibre revolver into a three-inch circle at 50 feet with not one shot peeling into the white.

You will remember Zane Grey writing of an expert gunman by the name of Buck Duane who, at

Federation As Good As Members' Effort*King Twp. Votes $400 to Federation of Agriculture

Agriculture contributes its to the Canadian economy and share to the Canadian economy and should receive its fair share of our national income. All farmers are agreed that farm produce prices in the past have been the last to go up in price and the first to drop.

This practice must be stopped. How is this to be attained? By parity prices! Farm commodity prices at all times should bear a fair and equal relation to all other commodity prices.

How can we farmers hope to have parity prices? By giving financial support to farm commodity groups and the Ontario and dominion federation of agriculture. The objective of the township units of federation is to have in each school section in York county at least one organized farm group and to consolidate all township farm groups into one working unit.

The financial support should come from an assessment of not less than $1 on each farm or unit producing farm produce or by membership fees. Markham twp. has a federation unit and has adopted the assessment plan of finance. Whitchurch has provisional officers and is forming a provisional board of directors. A constitution is being drawn up.

Whitchurch has received $50 expense money from York county federation. Every unit that appoints a provisional committee or officers can draw $50 for expenses. East Gwillimbury has a committee that is considering a township unit. In federation work there is no hard or fast rule. The farmers decide how they wish to act. The suggestions given have been effective in forming other units.

The success or failure of our farm movement depends on the support given by each farm family. Talk parity prices in your home to your neighbors and friends. Decide how you wish to finance your organized group. Tell your council men about it.

Labor has a slogan, "All workers, no riders." We farmers should do well to copy this slogan.

STILL GOING STRONG*Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander 106

Brownhill and district paid its annual tribute to Mrs. Elizabeth "Grannie" Alexander on Tuesday when she celebrated her 106th birthday. As has been the custom for years, school children gathered at her home to sing her "Happy Birthday".

Believed to be the oldest resident in York County, Mrs. Alexander says that to "work hard and raise a big family" is the best way to live a long and happy life. She thinks modern women are too much inclined to gossip. "Their husbands are hardly out the door on their way to work before the wives scoot next door to gossip all morning, leaving the dishes in the sink," she says. Neighbors were too far apart for that in her day.

Mrs. Alexander has survived two husbands, ten children and some grandchildren. But she still has 21 grandchildren living, 44 great-grandchildren and 15 great-great-grandchildren. A doctor told her recently her heart was good for another ten years, she reported.

She still reads newspapers without the aid of glasses and keeps up on fashions, of which she doesn't think very highly. "Girls used to make their own clothes for wear and warmth, not for looks," she says.

She looked at a parchment the Ontario government sent her for her birthday and chuckled. Twenty-eight years ago she was carried into her home on stretcher suffering from flu and heard the doctor say to the stretcher bearers that she had only a few days to live. The doctor has now been dead for years.

THE HOMEMAKERS

Fresh Vegetable Near

The fresh fruit and vegetable season of 1959 is fast approaching. Many lockers may contain an abundant supply of frozen foods on hand. Now is the time to start using up these foods so that the locker is ready to receive a new supply. Asparagus, broccoli and berries are fruits and vegetables which are fairly expensive and are usually frozen for that holiday dinner or an unexpected party.

However, all too often these special occasions do not materialize and these foods are left in the locker. The wise housewife does not let this happen. She plans her menus so that they use up all the foods in her locker before a new supply of fresh fruits and vegetables appear on the market.

HAM AND ASPARAGUS ROLL
1 16-oz. package of frozen asparagus

6 thin slices of raw ham
1 Tbsp. fat
1 Tbsp. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup milk

6 Tbsp. chili sauce
Thaw asparagus enough to separate stalks. Roll four or five stalks of asparagus in each slice of raw ham. Place in shallow casserole or baking dish. Bake, covered in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for approximately 20 minutes. Uncover and continue baking for ten minutes longer. Melt fat, blend in flour, salt and pepper and slowly add milk. Cook, stirring constantly until the sauce thickens. Remove the ham-asparagus rolls from oven and place a portion of the white sauce on each roll. Garnish with chili sauce. Yield: six servings.

RASPBERRY SNOW
4 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
2 cups boiling water
1 Tbsp. lemon juice (1 lemon)
1 Tbsp. grated lemon rind

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt thoroughly. Gradually add the boiling water, stirring constantly. Cook over low heat until thick and clear, about ten minutes. Add lemon juice and grated rind and pour slowly over stiffly beaten egg whites, stirring until well blended. Fold in drained raspberries. Yield: six servings.

RHUBARB MUFFIN PUDDINGS
1 Cup sifted all purpose flour
2 Tbsp. baking powder
1/2 Tbsp. salt
1/2 Tbsp. sugar
1/2 Tbsp. shortening
1 Cup finely diced frozen rhubarb
6 Tbsp. evaporated milk
1 Beaten egg yolk

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut shortening into the dry ingredients until mixture looks like fine bread crumbs. Add the diced frozen rhubarb. Mix the egg yolk with milk, add slowly to dry ingredients to form a soft dough. Fill greased muffin tins two-thirds full and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve as dessert with Foamy Sauce. Yield: six servings.

FOAMY SAUCE
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/2 Cup brown sugar
1 Cup boiling water
1 Tbsp. butter
1 Egg white

Combine cornstarch and sugar. Add the boiling water gradually. Cook 15 minutes in the top of a double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat, add butter and vanilla, stir until blended. Add the mixture slowly to stiffly beaten egg white, stirring vigorously. Serve hot.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Avoiding Comparisons

Bob and Betty are twins, ten years old, who have the advantage of attending different schools. Bob is proving an excellent student in a public school and Betty is happily making progress at her own rate in a private school. Since the schools, the teachers and the classmates are all different, comparisons are easily avoided. Betty has never suffered humiliation at the expense of her own brother, who has an abnormally high I.Q.

This plan was started four years ago and has saved so much of the dissension which usually exists in similar situations that it has proven itself a practical procedure.

Comparisons of children, if they can't be entirely eliminated, should be minimized. This is especially important during the early growing years of a child's life. After they have established their own identity as an individual, they feel more secure within themselves and outside forces have a more difficult time warping their personalities and hampering their development.

In all fairness to the twins, they were sent to separate schools. Bob is proving an excellent student in a public school and Betty is happily making progress at her own rate in a private school. EVANGELINE GROUP

ST. PATRICK'S TEA,
SALE 'DELIGHTFUL'

The Evangeline Auxiliary of Trinity United church, Newmarket, held a delightful St. Patrick's tea and bake sale on Friday, March 10. The tea room was tastefully decorated with shamrocks and yellow and green streamers.

Mrs. W. E. Walton, the president, received the guests. Mrs. H. Cane, Miss A. King and Mrs. C. G. Wainwright presided at the tea table which was centred with yellow daffodils. Dainty sandwiches, cookies and relishes were served at tables decorated with spring flowers. Much credit is due the convenors, Mrs. W. O. Noble, Mrs. L. Bovair, Mrs. L. Cane and the finance committee for the success of the tea.

An innovation at the church tea is a supervised nursery which is proving popular for the young mothers. Mrs. S. Jefferson and Mrs. H. Walker had charge of the children.

HAZEL MCNERN WED IN EDMONTON

Spring blossoms decorated the altar of St. Peter's church, Edmonton, for a pretty ceremony in which Hazel Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McNern of Wainwright, Alta., formerly of Hope, Ont., became the bride of Mr. Robert Daniel Lamont, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lamont of Lashburn, Sask.

Mr. McNern gave his daughter in marriage in the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. R. S. Faulks.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace, fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with a bias fold of lace, caught with clusters of seed pearls, and a full skirt inset with bands of lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses and wore as her only jewelry a pair of pearl earrings, gift of the groom.

Attending her were Miss Lilian Fox as bridesmaid, and little Joanne Lamont as flower girl. Miss Fox wore a gown of pink taffeta and net, with a matching hat and mittens. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations. The little flower girl was in a mauve taffeta frock, with a matching poke bonnet. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Best man was Mr. Jack Lamont, brother of the groom, and ushers were Mr. William Fox and Mr. Robert McNern.

Mr. H. Taylor played the music for the wedding and the soloist, Mrs. N. Minogue, sang "The Lord's Prayer," and "I Love You Truly."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McNern chose a navy triple-sheer frock with navy and pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Lamont, mother of the bridegroom, was in a two-piece silk ensemble of two tones of blue with which she wore green accessories and pink roses in corsage.

A reception for 65 guests was held in the Masonic Temple where Mrs. W. Fox and Mrs. R. Niven, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively, presided at the tea table.

Decorations included pink and white streamers strung from a large wedding bell suspended over the bride's table on which were a three-tiered cake, bouquets of spring flowers and tall white tapers.

Mr. Jack Lamont proposed the toast to the bride.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Calgary, the bride changed to a two-piece aurora blue ensemble of imported gabardine, complemented with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

On their return the newlyweds will make their home in Edmonton.

ST. PATRICK'S TEA

A St. Patrick's Day tea and home baking sale will be held by the Parochial Guild of St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, in the Parish hall tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5.30 p.m. A nursery will be set up where mothers may leave their pre-school age children during the tea hour.

IT'S A
Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

After an absence of a decade the York County hospital once again has a Women's Aid. The re-birth of the organization took place this past Saturday, although much preparatory work had been done beforehand by former Aid members.

It is a long time since we have attended a women's meeting where there was such a feeling of enthusiasm and a willingness to work. Everyone seemed almost anxious to accept office and its responsibilities. All of us who have had the task of filling vacancies on the slate of officers know that this condition is far from average. There were no refusals when names were suggested for various posts; no long-drawn-out explanations as to why they, of all people, were unable to accept the honor of nomination. There was instead a deep interest in the work of the group which manifested itself by active participation in the meeting by the majority of ladies present. They did not appear to be afraid of the sound of their own voices at a public meeting — a condition which we have seen at many gatherings of women's groups. For it makes the president's task heavy and difficult when following her request for opinions on the subject at hand she is met with a roomful of disinterested faces and a solemn silence.

Financial Assistance

In many cities, the hospital aid has furnished rooms; purchased special equipment; purchased and made dressings, bedding, etc.; assisted financially with remodeling or re-decorating of the nurses' residence and hospital. As has been stated before, the work of the aid is limitless. Assistance has been offered to victims hospitalized by fire or other tragedy who have lost many of their possessions. Layettes have been provided for impoverished new mothers. Clothing has been found and given to children who on their admission to hospital had been improperly clothed. Services for the patients in the hospitals are provided by aids in many localities. Some provide books, cigarettes or flowers for patients without these little extras. Members of the aid visit the patients from out-of-town who would have had no visitors otherwise. They do services such as shopping for a gift or taking a watch to be repaired or other little tasks which help to make the patient who must be hospitalized for a long period feel more contented.

The first step has been taken — the re-organization of the Women's Aid for York County hospital. The second is for all the women in the towns and rural areas served by this hospital to put their combined efforts in making it successful. Swell the membership and help with the work.

KETTLEBY W.A., W.M.S.
MEETING AT HOME
OF MRS. CARL BLACK

The W.A. and W.M.S. of the Kettleby United church met at the home of Mrs. Carl Black on Tuesday evening, March 7. Mrs. G. W. Cambourne, stewardship secretary, was in charge of the W.M.S. The theme of this service was "Not Give Me But Make Me."

It was suggested that Christ made stewardship the barometer of character. As a barometer measures the weight of the atmosphere, so our stewardship measures the weight of our concern and the warmth of our human sympathy. Mary is not remembered for having the alabaster box of precious spikenard but for breaking it.

Mrs. Hodgson announced that next month would be the Easter thankoffering meeting. Any good used clothing suitable for a bale to "the relief abroad" should be brought to our April meeting.

Mrs. Anson McCluskie, president, took charge of the W.A., assisted in the worship by Mrs. G. W. Cambourne. A committee was appointed to look after the annual May 24 concert.

It was suggested and unanimously approved that we send an invitation to the ladies' group of Ansnorveld church to be guests at the next meeting in the hope that we might become better acquainted with each other.

Mrs. Harry Burns gave a report of the W.A. annual meeting held in Fairlawn United church, Toronto. They were told that the duties of the W.A. should be improving the community, improving the personnel, improving our programs and improving ourselves.

Dr. Russell, speaker of the afternoon session, told of conditions in Britain before and after the war. He said that after each war Britain has been subjected to drastic changes in government. He felt that what was needed was more of a middle road course. He also said that food parcels were still needed by pensioners and crippled and shut-in folk.

Mrs. McCluskie closed the meeting using the W.A. theme hymn and prayer. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Burns, Mrs. H. Webster, Mrs. Robt. Jewitt and Mrs. G. W. Cambourne.

Sugar beets, or roots which may have been the forerunner of today's beets, were eaten for their energy value by the Egyptian laborers who built the pyramids.

Hawks Win Two Sound Defaults, Wait Next Round

Well beaten in the first two heats, Parry Sound Shamrocks defaulted the third game of their series with Aurora Black Hawks, thereby sending the Aurora juniors into the semi-final round of the O.H.A. junior "C" series. It was 8-2 for Aurora at home and 7-2 at the Sound. Neither score indicates the way the local boys dominated the play, and but for the fine work of "Scoty" McGregor in the nets, the Aurora count would have reached double figures in both games.

Some weird first period officiating in Parry Sound kept Aurora scoreless, and provided the evenest play of the series as Aurora was short-handed for over 12 minutes, but in the other five 20-minute stretches, there was no doubt as to who had command all the way. The Sound team was game, skated fast and gave all it had, it was just a case of a good big team being much too good for smaller opposition.

The entire Aurora squad played sound hockey, Grant Firth and Ortie Thoms heading the scoring parade with four goals each in the series. Gibson, McMillan, Petch and Sellars were others who especially caught the eye. Probably the most thrilling sights in both games were the times Aurora was short-handed and the Hawks turned on their dazzling criss-cross checking and passing display, which is working to perfection right now.

Maguire in the nets was not tested too much either game but played sound hockey. McGhee again headed the defense work, even if he did draw four penalties in the Sound. Next opposition will be much tougher, and it was probably as well the series was curtailed as the Hawks have had a tendency all year to fall into lapses after weaker opposition.

AURORA 7 - PARRY SOUND 2

Accompanied by over 100 supporters the Hawks went to the north country on Saturday and came back with another scalp to their belt. A scoreless first period which saw Aurora playing against poor officiating as well as the opposition had the Hawks short-handed for 12 minutes. In the second period "Clancy lowered the boom," and Aurora sped to a 6-0 effort. In the final period the homesteaders outscored Aurora 2-1, and their efforts really pleased the home fans. Firth with three and Thoms with two, were the top snipers, Sellars and Gibson adding to the Aurora total.

As in the game in Aurora, youthful Tommy Hulme went in the nets as the game ended to gain experience and confidence. Hugh McRae and Grant Green sat this one out as Keith Collings and Ken Wardell returned to the line-up. With a surplus of players on hand, coach Mitchell juggles his team each game to give all a chance. Tudhope and Mahaffey scored for the Sound.

Aurora: g., Maguire and Hulme; d., McGhee, Atkinson; c., Simmons; w., McMillan and Green; subs., Petch, Hill, Thoms, Gibson, Attridge, McRae, Wardell, Sellars, Collings, Firth.

Parry Sound: g., McGregor; d., Tudhope and Nichols; c., McLeod; w., Haskin and Orr; subs., Krouse, Foreman, Dunk, Mahaffey, Carney, Harrison, Lemkay, Bradley, Marshall.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Lindsay - Pt. Hope Winner Next?

Aurora Black Hawks, having received the third game of their series from Parry Sound via the cucumber kid in the nets. McGregor kept the score as low as it was in each contest and in the first period at Aurora handled 27 shots with only four misses, and none of them was soft. He's already tabbed by some of the A scouts.

Rural rhapsody: After eliminating Humber Summit and taking the first game from Hogarth (wherever that may be), Markham Eagles have folded for the season and dropped from O.R.H.A. senior series. The club had quality but not quantity of players and couldn't compete at the gate with their wealthy brothers, the Millionaires. A lot of familiar faces on the Eagles, too: Ernie and Bob Lawrie, Bud and Jack Baker, Don Gowland, Angus McArthur, Hugh Hall, Jack Blake, Chuck Hoover. Given the opportunity the Markham lads might have emulated the well known Mobile Eagles.

Schomberg was dropped from the rural series by Orillia in straight heats and tonight at Nobleton they tackle Kleinburg in the second game of their semi-final series. Winner meets Nobleton who decked Kettleby in the King - Vaughan League. Bob Moody is again at the helm for the 'Berg and on the roster are such familiar faces as Jess Turton, Doug Palmer, Bill Breeden, "Pike" Cable, Art Moody, Bruce Graham, "Shorty" Grahan, Henry Hollingshead, Gerry Hanlon, Bill Winters, Lin Edwards. Three newcomers listed simply as Brown, Lisk and Fell are also doing their part. Up north Stroud is going along nicely in the rural B grouping and it has among others the Bowman brothers, former Bradford juniors. This week in third round they ousted Brougham Bears who featured Chub Spencely, Wid Clarke, George Derusha, Redshaw and all the rest of the southerners who played for Ballantrae a couple of years ago. Lloyd Pascoe, former Stouffville junior, was also on the team. The O.R.H.A. has more entries than ever this year and the league fills a real need in the recreation life of the province. If there are any amateurs left, this is where you'll find them.

Parry Sound hockey backers must be heartily sick of these parts by now. Bradford juveniles, currently playing Stirling in the O.M.H.A. juvenile C series, belted the P.S. juveniles 20-7 on the round, the Hawks handily swept the junior series, while Newmarket Spitfires should annex their round in intermediate. Man behind the hockey scene in the Sound at present and doing a swell job is Harold Dunk, past president of the O.M.H.A. and formerly of Campbellford. His son was a member of the junior club and netted two goals against Aurora. Most of the Shamrocks can play junior again next season and they'll be good by then.

George Storey, sports expert of the Barrie Examiner who knows his hockey, has tabbed Collingwood for the championship. As you can see from the above there are no soft touches ahead for the Hawks and lady luck will have a lot to say about it all. Certainly, the paying customers can be assured of good competition, and their money's worth from here in.

Parry Sound hockey backers must be heartily sick of these parts by now. Bradford juveniles, currently playing Stirling in the O.M.H.A. juvenile C series, belted the P.S. juveniles 20-7 on the round, the Hawks handily swept the junior series, while Newmarket Spitfires should annex their round in intermediate. Man behind the hockey scene in the Sound at present and doing a swell job is Harold Dunk, past president of the O.M.H.A. and formerly of Campbellford. His son was a member of the junior club and netted two goals against Aurora. Most of the Shamrocks can play junior again next season and they'll be good by then.

Charlie Rountree was all smiles as his Woodbridge club eliminated Hespeler in a seven-games series that went the route. Contrary to what we told you last week, Sutton will meet Woodbridge and not Georgetown. It should be a good series and settle the intermediate B crown for the county. Here is the crew that Rountree maestros this season: goal, Orie Truman; def.,

Attractive Diane Loranger, Manitoba, one of the new women oil geologists, has invaded the he-man oil field of the west. This attractive 27-year-old girl, the first woman to graduate in geology from the University of Manitoba, hopes through the study of fossils "in about five or ten years" to be able to throw some light as to the shoreline of the vast sea which is believed to have covered the prairies. Here Diane is seen in a microscopic study of tiny fossils.

On The Alleys

Jack Pearson's Cubs have supplanted Lorne Mainprize's Eskimos as leaders in the Mount Albert league. Cubs have 62, Eskimos 57, Hurons 55 and Excelsiors 51. Beavers haven't been too eager so far in the basement with 20 points. Murray Stokes has the top average at 188 but dares not slip or Geo. Price or Ron Willies at 187 each will take over. Lorne McQuaid has high single mark to date with 347, nearest rival is Don Thompson with 325. In the ladies' division Dot Oliver at 164 and Marion Case at 162 hold top averages. Dorothy Brown at 275 and Blanche Evans with 263 lead the single efforts.

Smart's, tail-enders in the Davis circuit, took it on the chin again last week. Walt Groves' trundlers sank them 7-0. Thoms' skooters eased out a 4-3 win over Len Burling's team. Burling's have 111 to lead followed by Thoms 102, Groves 67 and Smart's 42. Andy Cullen was a mile in front of his nearest mate with a 721 last week (292-232-197). Walt Groves 667, Bill Cullen 654, Len Burling 644 and Frank Bothwell 605 ran in that order.

Slick Chicks fly at the head of the Friday nighters with 59 marks. Eager Beavers 56, Stinkers 51 and Hep-Cats 50. A 592 (202-180-210) gave Bob Banning high three marks last week. Mel Stickwood pinned a 249 single to lead that department. Helen Stickwood paced the girls with a 537 threesome (192-157-188). Doris Simmerson dished up the high single effort of the night, a 219.

Once again Myrtle Dunn did some deluxe pin spilling for a nifty 724 (161-231-332) to pace the Thursday night gals. Other good scores were Edna McGrath 593, Laurna Styke 558, Hazel Benitez 549, Norma Peel 527, Doris Bear 507.

Laura Whitfield again forged to the front in the Thursday night ladies' league with a 635 (237-189-209), the lone bowler up in the 600 block. Joyce VandenBerg with 510 and Grace Osmond at the even 500 were next in order.

The intermediates are not the only team Sutton can be proud of this season. The bantams, led by Harvie Cronberry, an ace forward, have eliminated Coldwater and will get opposition from the east in the next round. The juniors are locked in a terrific battle for junior D group honors with Cannington, but are the underdogs right now. The winners go against Orono who has already cleaned up the east and is headed for another title, "Skippy" and Jim being with the Greenshirts.

MERCHANTS BEAT BREASTS MILK OUT CHALLENGES

The Town Merchants, who have the Davis Leather side hanging on the ropes at the moment in the Town League finals, are looking for wider fields to conquer. George Hudson and his men want to tackle the winner of the Mount Albert - Queensville Lake Simcoe Hockey League final. Are you listening, out there in the country? What say, is it a go? Townsmen also wouldn't mind taking on an Aurora town or factory team. Same rules as are applied here. No O.H.A. players. Well come on now, don't stand there. Get busy.

DUMP DAVIS
3RD WIN GIVES TOWN CROWN

The Town Leaguers switched over to Thursday of last week. The switch didn't do the Tanners one bit of good. The goal-hungry Town Merchants skinned the Tanners but good by an 11-4 margin. The win, the Merchies' second straight, gives them a strangle-hold on the Merk League crown. Another such bit of skullduggery sweeps the Tanner into the ash can.

The Tanners found the pipe-benders, shirt cleaners and like in a fast skating mood and couldn't do much about holding them in check. The Town took command from the outset. It was 4-2 at the end of the first chapter and the Townsmen were never headed, boasting their count by three in the second, the Tanners making no reply. The third frame was another town triumph by a 4-2 advantage.

The game though was closer than the score would have you believe. Bill Ingram foiled a lot of Tanner thrusts at his twine bungalow. There was enough good hockey to please anyone and enough jabs and jabs to keep the penalty bench warm most of the night as referee Cliff Gunn hastened 13 to the cooler. All were for minor infractions except that to Bob Smith for a misconduct for some after-school chit-chat.

Chief de-hiders in the Town win were Gord Chase, "Murphy" Jelley and Ron "Hopalong" Eves who dished up two goals each. Harold Gwyn and "Shorty" Wrightman had a spread of three points, a goal and a pair of helpers. Ivan Gibson, Bob Smith and Ken Groves appeared

YORK-SIMCOE BIRDLIE LEAGUE WON BY AURORA

Aurora's over-the-webbing contingent is York-Simcoe Badminton League champions and thus will hold the Bob Yates' Trophy for this season. Aurora completed its championship run with victories this week over Bradford by a 7-1 margin and defeated Richmond Hill by six games to two. Aurora made a clean sweep carrying through the season without a loss to annex first place in the league standing. Bradford finished second, Newmarket third, Willowdale fourth and Richmond Hill fifth.

Plans are now afoot to stage a final closing up tournament for the league at Pickering College early in April.

MILLIONAIRES HERE?

There is a distinct hope that the local fans will have another chance to see Markham "Millionaires" in action here. At present the Dollar Men and Stouffville "Clippers" are waging a ding-dong battle for the group title.

Should the four out of seven series require a fifth game, the fifth and possibly deciding contest is booked at attention at the arena here Monday evening. That should make the arena the rallying place for all the fans for miles around. These two clubs go at it hammer and tongs each time out.

with a goal each.

Groves brothers, "Jing" and Jack, "Cec" Andrews and Aubrey Martin netted a goal each for the Tanners. The third and possibly last game of the series will come off next Monday.

Three Overtime Goals Give Spits Win
1500 Fans Jam Arena To See Game*NEWS 'N' VIEWS

By George HASKETT
ERA AND EXPRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Now or never week. Spits must win Wednesday or face long, gruesome trip to Parry Sound. Must win Friday with Bradford here or pass out of the Trolley League picture. Sounds like a tall order. Still, after winning 6-4 in the Sound, they should be able to take care of that chore.

SPITS LOSE TO BRADFORD
4-2 OPENER

Spits ran in to motor trouble Saturday, Murrell Motor trouble that is. They dropped a 4-2 decision to Bradford in game one of the Trolley semi-finals. While the loss might be classed as somewhat of a ten-karat upset, still Bradford, as anyone will tell you, is mighty tough to break down in their own back yard. The Spits therefore are faced with the proposition of winning the next two at home or getting out of the Trolley League playdowns.

The game had about everything to give the fans a chance to exercise their vocal chords. Defensively the teams kept the road to their goals strewn with a variety of body and poke checks backed up by some superb shot-blocking by a torrid Joe Tunney and Ken Tupling.

If the Spits had to single out one character to blame for their loss, it would have to be Bill Boychoff. Boychoff was hotter than a July heat wave, figuring in every goal fired by Bradford, completing a hat trick performance in the last 22 seconds of play after Joe Tunney had been lifted in favor of an extra Spits forward. Wilson drew the all-important face off and Boychoff chopped it the length of the ice smack dab into the centre of the Spits' cage.

The teams came out of the first two periods all even with a goal each. Stan Gibbons dug the puck out of the corner to allow Myles McInnis a chance to pepper a low whistler into the Bradford strings at the 15-minute mark. Bradford struck back after 13 seconds of the second, Boychoff converting a Roy Collings pass.

Another fast goal from the face-off to start the third underway gave Bradford a 2-1 lead, Boychoff again. Stan Gibbons all on his own tied it a minute later with a hoist from the left boards. Cliff Gunn was chased for slashing and "Mutt" Collings with Boychoff the feeder combined for what proved to be the winning marker. As already mentioned, Bradford boosted it to 4-2 with that final long drive into the Newmarket citadel in the last minute of play.

PLAN 3-LEAGUE
HOCKEY NIGHT
FOR KID TEAMS

Plans are now well advanced to have the school and Optimist bantam league settle their championship hockey debates in a jam packed triple header attraction at the arena soon. In past years the hockey has been squeezed in before the races, etc., on Tom Kirk Night. This year it is planned to have a separate night for the hockey.

It's semi-final time now in the school leagues. Saturday morning Rangers collared a five-goal lead in first game of the best two games, goals to count, series with a 6-1 win over Bruins. Bill Forhan was the Rangers' ace with four goals. Johnnie Lake and Don Sutton bopped in singles. Jack Calm was the Bruin's goal-getter. In the other pee-wee action, Canadiens and Redwings battled to a four all draw. This Saturday will decide who carries on into the finals.

In the squirt league, Bears earned a goal lead to carry into this Saturday's action with a 2-1 win over Bisons. Barons and Flyers go into Saturday action all even as they tied last week two all.

In the Optimist bantam league, Spitfires, TeePees and Flyers are engaging in a round-robin series for the right to meet the front running Marlboro club for the championship and the Broadbent Trophy.

LEGION BINGO
On Saturday night, Aurora Branch 385, Canadian Legion, held another successful bingo in the Legion hall. Although there was a nice attendance there is still room for plenty more. The jack pot is still piling up. Bingo resumes Saturday night.

Whew! What a night! What a hockey game! No place for a weak ticker!

Three hours of the most exciting hockey we've seen at the rink in years and years. Had everything to keep a mob of 1,500 fans in an uproar. And it was won by the Spits 9-6 in ten minutes of overtime.

Three goals in that overtime gave the Spits the verdict. First, the tie breaker after 5:34 seconds whipped home by Bill "Hot Shot" Johnston with Normie Legge working the disc into scoring position. Then Bill Mabbett clicked for a pair of goals, probably the most welcome the fans have ever seen. Mabbett's first with "Flink" Tunstead the pass supplier and on the second Myles McInnis let fly a drive that Johnny on the spot Mabbett steered into the Sound strings. That did it! Parry Sound had had it! Round two for the Spits coming up.

That overtime was the pay-off. There was drama by the bushel full before that as the decision went right down to the wire. Spits had to fly to get the tying counter in the third period. Parry Sound connected for a goal at the 17:02 mark. Time was running out on the Spits. Newmarket flashed in on the Sounders' citadel, a shot, the light went on. But referees Andy Bellemier and Randy Anderson disallowed it. The fans gave vent to their displeasure by heaving everything, including somebody's back door, onto the ice.

Allan Lockie headed the Queensville marksmen with two goals, while Dave Couch, Bill Coates and Bruce Townsend completed the scoring parade.

For the injury ridden

Mount Albert side Elmer Paisley, Morley Smalley and Allan Dixon came through with scoring credits.

Q'VILLE UPSETS
MT. ALBERT 8-6
IN OPENER

Last week's Lake Simcoe Hockey League play-off tilt between Queensville and Mount Albert is likely to go down in history. It was a gory, penalty-studded affair in which the mighty Mounties were finally beaten. During the regular season, the Mounties swept everything before them. Then came the medals and bingo, when it hurt most, Queensville floored them 8-6. The win gives Queensville a game advantage to carry into the next game of the best two out of three.

The teams are due to hammer each other again this week and the hockey smitten fans from near and far are expected to jam into the Queensville arena to see the fun.

Queensville pulled in front 2-1 in the first, doubled up 6-3 at the end of two sessions while Mount Albert finished strong to land a 3-2 advantage in the final frame.

Bill Burkholder and Bruce Townsend shared the spotlight in giving Mount the boot with a trio of scoring thrusts. Jim Stevenson popped up a pair of nifty scoring credits to complete the Queensville run.

Ross Draper, bulkwark the Mount Albert defense, found time to lead his mates in their scoring licks with two, Bruce Dale, Russ Forfar, Bruce Paisley and Morley Smalley sniped for singles.

Mount Albert: g, M. Hayes; d, M. Sanderson, R. Draper; e, A. Dixon; w, B. Forfar, E. Paisley; alts., M. Smalley, B. Paisley, R. Forfar.

Queensville: g, L. Hall; def., R. Crouch, w, B. Burkholder; c, B. Townsend; w, J. Stevenson, W. Coates; alts., A. Lockie, J. Rutledge, M. Contes, J. Milne, A. Smith, D. Smith, C. Mortson.

Referees: H. Gibney, Newmarket, H. Smith, Ballantrae.

INDIANS OUT OF PLAY-OFFS
BY 9-7 LOSS

Aurora "Indians" were dismissed from the Trolley League playdowns Tuesday night. Four unanswered tallies in the final period enabled Sutton "Greenshirts" to overhaul a 7-5 lead staked out by the Indians over the first two periods. Pringle's rascals thus earning the final decision 9-7. The Sutton victory gave them the semi-final set in two straight.

Aurora was full value for its lead over the first two periods. They out-hustled and out-played the Greenshirts. It was due in the main to the smooth skating and passing of Rogers' junior line of Ron Simmons, Grant Green and Bruce McMillan. The trio accounted for four tallies.

All well and good to this point from an Aurora standpoint, Sutton boosted its count to within one goal of the Indian mark early in the third. Loring Doolittle was chased for interference. Ken Davie tied it seven-all though Eric Smith actually steered the boot heel into his own cage. A defensive lapse, a pair of quick goalward thrusts in a matter of six seconds at the 15 mark by Jim Taylor and Doug Ross with Geo. Lamont the assist on both and it was curtains for the Indians.

Goalgetters with the Indians were Grant Green with two, Ron Simmons, Vic Meharg, Bruce McMillan, Tom Brodie and Normie Taylor with singles.

Jim "Skip" Taylor was the scoring ace with Greenshirts with a hat trick performance but had lots of backing from Doug Ross and Geo. Lamont with two each.

Sutton: g, W. Holder; def., E. Pringle, K. Gunn; c, D. Ross; w, G. Lamont, J. Taylor; alts., K. Davie, F. Taylor, R. Griffith, R. O'Dell, T. Anderson, C. Brady.

Aurora: g, E. Smith; def., V. Meharg, L. Grove; c, R. Simmons; w, G. Green, B. McMillan; alts., L. Doolittle, W. Mundell, T. Brodie, M. Brandon, W. Patrick, N. Nigh, N. Taylor.

Referees: R. Peters, H. Gibney, Newmarket.

THE TIGER

Rodney Smart

Grade V, King George School
The tiger is found in India and neighboring countries. He is not found in Africa, the home of the lion, nor in any country west of India. He belongs to the cat family and is about the same size or even a little larger than his cousin, the lion, but he is much more clever than the lion. He knows how to hide better, hunt better and does not make his presence known to his enemies by roaring as much as the lion. Lions sometimes hunt in the broad daylight, but tigers stay hidden until after dark when they can do their hunting with more safety to themselves.

A mother tiger purrs like a giant cat when she is happily playing with her kittens. She cares for her babies very much like a mother cat cares for her kittens. She teaches them to hunt and usually keeps them with her until they are three years old. Their home is in a cave or in the jungle.

The tiger is shaped very much like a lion in size and general build but because his fur is bright, yellow-orange, shading to white below with black stripes, he looks quite different. Neither has the tiger a mane. If a tiger were to stand up on his hind feet, he would be taller than a man.

The tiger can see, hear and smell very well. He waits by the water hole until an animal comes down to drink. Then he pounces on it like a cat on a mouse. He eats deer, wild pigs and other small animals. Once he has killed domestic cattle or a human being, he becomes very bold and will go back and kill more people. The village people then gather together and hunt him down.

His feet are padded so he can move quietly. He can draw his huge claws close to his paws like a cat.

Because tigers hide in the long jungle grass it would be dangerous to hunt him on foot. In India the native princes often hunt these beasts for sports from the backs of elephants. Natives surround the tiger and beat the bushes down until the great cat is driven out into the open where he may be shot by the hunters. A man is considered very brave and fearless who returns with a tiger skin as a trophy to decorate his home.

ON THE SKI TRAILS

L. A. CURTIS

The ski bus went at 2 o'clock Sunday, Feb. 26. It went off at the deserted house and headed for the club house.

Afterwards Joan Curtis, Ronald Densbury, Donnie Jackson and George Ramm and I went towards the bush. After going down a hill three times we went in the bush. At Happy Valley Donnie Jackson fell and almost sprained his ankle which was not happy for him. As I was coming down after him I yelled "Track," but Don could not move so I just missed him. I stopped and told the others to stay at the top then helped Donnie. Later we went to the top of the Whopper to the main trail and then we went to Paradise Run.

On Paradise Run we lost Don and Ron so we hunted till 4:30 then we turned back. As we were going up the hill to the club house we saw Don and Ron coming out of the bush.

We were back in Newmarket at 5:15. The weather was fine and I wished we had more of it.

THE SUGAR CAMP

Walter Leadbeater

Grade V, King George School

I think there is no part of farming a boy enjoys more than the making of maple sugar. It is better than blackberrying and nearly as good as fishing. One reason that he likes this work is that somebody else does most of it. It is the sort of work in which he can pretend to be very busy and yet not do much. Boys are eager in the spring for the sap to begin running. I think boys discover it as soon as anybody. Perhaps the boy has been out digging into the maple trees with his jackknife. At any rate, he is pretty sure to be the first to yell "Sap's runnin'!"

In the first place, the men go about and tap the trees, drive in the spouts and hang the buckets under them. Then the camp is to be cleared of snow. The sap is gathered and boiled slowly in the great kettles.

The sap, as it thickens, is dipped from one kettle to another until in the end kettle, it has become syrup. Then the syrup is taken out to cool and settle. The most exciting time for the boys is that of sugaring off. Sometimes this is done in the evening and there is a party in the camp. At these sugar parties, everyone is supposed to eat as much sugar as possible and those who are used to it can eat a great deal.

THE LIFE OF A BUTTERFLY

Marion Park

Grade V, King George School

A female butterfly lays eggs. Very small caterpillars hatch out of the eggs. The caterpillar grows too big for its skin. It has a new skin underneath the old skin. The caterpillar grows bigger and bigger. Then it stops eating and moves slowly. The caterpillar rests in a chrysalis. We call it a pupa now. The pupa changes to a butterfly, then it comes out of the chrysalis. A female butterfly mates with a male butterfly. This is the life of a butterfly.

A Word About This Edition

All the work on this and the immediately following pages is that of Newmarket public school students.

It appears in this form as an alternative to the usual "Open House" and classroom displays which were the practice of other years. It was thought by the principals and the school board, that the work of the students would in this way be better known since attendance at "Open House" has not been large.

Where possible, the work of each school has been kept together. In the limited time for the preparation of this special edition, it was not possible to separate the work by grades, nor was it practical to attempt the usual form of lay-out.

A close reading of these pages is recommended. We are sure every reader will find something to admire, to chuckle over and to unloose memories of their own school days.

The supervising principal, Mr. H. A. Jackson, and principals of the other schools, Messrs. Sam Jefferson and William Blackshaw, and all the teachers are to be congratulated on the excellent work of their pupils.

The Editor.

CLOTHING

George Ramm

Grade VI, King George School

Dogs, bears and cats have fur to keep them warm; but the human body has only a delicate skin. So humans have to wear clothes.

In the olden days Indians used to wear very little clothing in the summer. During the winter they covered themselves with furs and wore moccasins.

Clothing should be worn loosely to permit evaporation. Light-colored clothes help us to keep cool, especially white. It reflects the sun's rays instead of absorbing them like dark clothes.

Some people think rubbers are a nuisance. They like to wear ordinary shoes and walk through water and slush. Shoes should be a perfect fit. If the shoes are not big enough they cause corns, ingrown toenails, blisters and other troubles.

It always pays to have the proper fitting shoes and clothes.

MY NIGGER DOLL

Dorothy Taylor

Alexander Muir School

Cotton Ball, my nigger doll,

Had a fall and that ain't all—

She skinned her nose and stubbed her toes

And dirtied up her nice clean clothes.

CAR RACING

Gary Edwards

Grade IV, Alex. Muir School

The cars are on their mark and they are ready to go. Bang!

There they go. There goes car No. 3 in the lead but just look at No. 7 who is gaining on No. 3. It is now beside No. 3. Oh!

It just bumped No. 3. Now No. 7 is in the lead with No. 5 in second place and No. 3 in third.

I think everyone must have had a bet on No. 7 because just listen to the crowd cheer! They are coming into the finish with

No. 7 winning. Yeah! No. 7 won!

Booy! That was a tough race wasn't it?

MY DOG

Shirley Anne Bennett

Grade VI, King George School

His nose is short and scrubby,

His ears are rather low,

And he always brings the stick back

No matter where you throw,

He gets spanked rather often

For things he shouldn't do;

Like lying on beds and barking

And sometimes for chasing you.

He always wants to be going

Where he isn't supposed to go;

If he tracks up the house when it's snowing

And oh! puppy, I love you so.

demands the utmost in skill and daring. Lumberjacks challenge death in the "drive". Guiding logs through the water and over rapids is a highly dangerous business. Recent developments in Western Canada have brought roads, railways and trucks to the front, hauling logs directly from the bush to the saw-mill.

Making lumber calls for great skill. In the saw-mill, huge circular and band saws trim and bark slabs from logs, after which many logs are sawed in one operation into lumber of desired widths and thicknesses. The lumber is then cut into desired lengths and graded as to quality, dipped into a chemical bath to preserve it and stacked in high stacks.

The operations to get standing trees to the saw-mill are many and complex. A man known as the "Timber Cruiser" must first tramp through the forest making estimates of the quantity of timber likely to be taken out. He must obtain accurate information of the surface of the area in preparation for the construction of roads and the location of skidways and landings. The construction of his logging camp may then be started. Following the completion of the roads and the establishment of a camp, the logging operations really begin.

The founders of the lumber industry have left their mark on the pages of Canada's history.

Their efforts brought civilization to the wilderness. These men were the shock troops who conquered and put the forests to use.

Because of the facts I have just mentioned, I am going to speak on "The Story of Canadian Forest Products".

The most comforting factor of all is that given proper forest management, our wood supply can be made everlasting.

This statement in light of the many years of forest fire destruction and to even a greater extent because of damage by insect attack and by disease is a little hard to believe.

Our Canadian forest areas are so large and regrowth is so good that given even half a break nature will provide a constant supply. And herein lies the golden opportunity for us.

Much of the legendary color of the lumbering industry is the "drive".

The "drive" is a project which demands the utmost in skill and daring. Lumberjacks challenge death in the "drive". Guiding logs through the water and over rapids is a highly dangerous business. Recent developments in Western Canada have brought roads, railways and trucks to the front, hauling logs directly from the bush to the saw-mill.

The operations to get standing trees to the saw-mill are many and complex. A man known as the "Timber Cruiser" must first tramp through the forest making estimates of the quantity of timber likely to be taken out. He must obtain accurate information of the surface of the area in struction of his logging camp

HOCKEY

George T. Davis,
Hockey has improved these last few years because schools and clubs have been helping to keep the boys in the sport. The Pee Wees are one good example of what the school is doing for the sport of hockey.

In hockey the peewees are boys from ten to eleven. Now the boys are having more time to practice and develop their bodies and grow into healthy young men.

In hockey the Pee Wees are the Pee Wees play on Saturday mornings. Newmarket has a very good Pee Wee hockey team because they tied the Keswick Bantams two all. There are some good players on the teams, and I think they will go long way in hockey.

Don Jackson has the making of an excellent goalie. Bill Forhan, Jack and Bill Cain look two promising wingers.

The boys should feel very grateful to Messrs. Jackson, Hollingsworth, Jefferson and Hamilton.

Mr. Jackson and Mr. Blight are the referees.

Come down to the arena on Saturday morning and see some of the games. No doubt some of these youngsters will be the professionals of a few years hence.

MY VACATION

Sandra McCann,
Grade VII, Stuart Scott School

Last summer while on my vacation I had a very interesting experience.

One warm sunny day we decided to go on a picnic and with all the various places we had to select from we finally went to Jackson's Landing.

Jackson's Landing is the Indian agent's home nestled in the very picturesque Indian reserve on the shore of Grand Lake Victoria, a very large lake in Northern Quebec.

What interested me most on our trip was the wild animals that the Indians had caught. Mr. Jackson, a well educated Englishman, had married a squaw, and needless to say, there was a large family of children of various ages. Their Indian blood gave them the instinct to hunt wild animals and on this particular day we were fortunate in seeing two baby moose and several baby beaver.

An Indian boy named Donald Jackson led the baby moose around. He was about eleven years old.

All in all a very pleasant day was spent.

WHO ARE THE EDUCATED?

Grant Morton,
Grade VIII, Stuart Scott School

There is an impression today that a good educational system is one that can impart learning without requiring hard work. "Nobody can be expected to learn unless he is interested"—and few indeed are interested in hard work. Isn't it the aim of our scientific civilization to eliminate the necessity for hard work?

Relief from drudgery is greatly to be desired; but the Creator himself has so arranged things that man must win his bread in the sweat of his brow. And that includes the bread of the spirit no less than physical bread. God is evidently more interested in what we are than in what we have or what we enjoy; and without self-discipline, what we are does not amount to much. Thomas Huxley said: "Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and however a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly."

Kennie Dunham A KITE'S WISH

Grade II, Stuart Scott School

March is a lovely month, I think, the clouds in the sky look like soft woolly sheep.

I wish I could fly in the sky so blue.

And play hide-and-seek as the sheep seem to do.

WHAT I WOULD LIKE TO BE WHEN I GROW UP

Kinsey Dillane,
Grade V, Stuart Scott School

There are many things to choose from and most children would think it is very difficult. But as for me it wasn't difficult. I suppose you are wondering what I would like to be. Well, I would like to be a hockey player of the Maple Leafs. Now some people say it's nothing to get the puck and go down the ice and score. Those people are wrong.

Now take the N.H.L. for instance. One player gets the puck. He starts to go up the ice and instead of taking it all by himself he passes it to another player on his team and they keep this going until they get to the opposing team's end. Then one of them sees a chance to score. So he tries but does not always score.

Now think of the Toronto Maple Leafs. Every day they are up early practising passing, stick-handling and checking.

Have you ever heard a hockey game on the radio? Well, if you have, you have heard Foster Hewitt saying, "Now Max Bentley has the puck. He 'dips-doodled' past Richard and then over to Timmins and back to Bentley. He shoots. He scores." That's the very person I want to be like some day.

I would likely retire when I am about thirty-four. When I do my mind is made up to be a pilot of a jet plane that does stunts which are very dangerous. So that is what I would like to be.

A VISIT I HAVE TAKEN

Marilyn Gilroy,
Grade V, Stuart Scott School

I think radio programs for school children should be either comical, musical or mythical. The majority of children's programs belong to the last group. Others are based in such a way that they are very educational. Most cowboy stories are quite wholesome as radio entertainment.

I can't see any sense in these crime dramas such as Inner Sanctum and Gang Busters, etc. I don't consider them in any way beneficial.

Radio programs should be comical with the parts taken by comedians such as Bob Hope, Wayne and Shuster, Blondie, Beulah, etc. Of course there are other good comedians. With their jokes comedians can interest anyone at anytime.

Musical programs could interest any child, but most children think that music is either sissy or girls' work but that is wrong. Some of the good singers are men; Shubert, Bach, Mozart and Mendelssohn were some of the best music composers. These men wrote music still heard by people every day.

Mythical or regular children's programs of which are broadcast in the early evening are sometimes very interesting and educational. These should increase while crime programs decrease.

I consider cowboy stories such as Gene Autry's show good listening. He is a singing cowboy who has a program of western songs, jokes, and a story to add to the listeners' interest. There are other cowboy stories that are complete each time. They have nothing to do with crime, but they are exciting drama, usually based on the wild west with a special cowboy hero.

Radio should not be used to show crime prevention because a person should learn law in school, not from radio.

POETRY

Johnny Georgas,
Grade IV, Stuart Scott School

Once there was a Rabbit—He was just a little toy, He could play a trumpet Just like my uncle Roy.

One day he went outside, And went hop, hop, hop;

When the policeman saw him He could not make him stop.

He jumped up on the bed And bounced all around;

And he hit the wrong spring And landed on the ground.

Then he found some paint And painted himself red;

He meddled with some dynamite And now poor Bunny is dead.

HOW THEY GOT A HOLIDAY

Mary Greenwood,
Grade VIII, Stuart Scott School

Some schoolboys failed to obtain a holiday, and as a result, thought of a plan to get their schoolmaster out of the way.

"If we could only make him think he is ill," said the eldest, "then he would be ill, which would be the truth."

That morning, as school went in, each pupil greeted the teacher with the statement, "Good morning, sir! how ill you look. I'm so sorry you feel ill."

The schoolmaster replied, "Why, I don't feel ill."

But each boy made the same remark.

After a while, the schoolmaster closed his book and went home. The boys got a holiday that day.

The next morning, the schoolmaster was not to be seen at the school. This made the boys greatly amazed.

"Well! Well!" said the eldest, "we had better go to his house and see what is the matter."

On this occasion they met a man who told them that the schoolmaster was very ill and was tossing about the bed in a fever.

"Well," said the eldest, "we must see him at once."

They soon arrived at the schoolmaster's house. The man led them to the sick man's room where he tossed about with fever.

"Do as I say," said the eldest, in a whispering tone.

"Well, how well you look today. You surely are looking a great deal better," said the boys.

"Do I? Why, I thought I felt ill," replied the schoolmaster.

"Oh, no," said the boys, "you are feeling better now. Get up and take a walk."

"Perhaps you are right," said the schoolmaster.

He got up and in two hours' time had recovered his health.

PLAYGROUND SAFETY

Gaye Willis,
Grade V, Stuart Scott School

For safety on our playground we should not have broken glass, rusty tin cans or broken sticks lying around. If someone should step on broken glass or tin cans he might get infection.

When other pupils are playing on swings we should not stand near them.

When we go down slides we should be sure when we get to the bottom to get out of the way quickly, for there is nearly always somebody coming down behind us.

We should also try to keep it clean by not throwing old papers, apple cores or orange peelings around.

A clean playground is a safe playground.

WINTER

Donald Thoms,
Grade V, Stuart Scott School

I like to see the Winter come With lots and lots of snow, That's the time to get together With the fellows that I know.

We get our skates and hockey sticks And head to where there's ice, Boy, do we have lots of fun That's why I think Winter's nice.

And soon it will be over,

The birds will be back to sing, I'll put away my winter things And get ready for the Spring.

SUMMER DAYS

Georgina Allen,
Grade VI, Stuart Scott School

The summer days are here at last, The winter winds have gone astray,

I know the children now will laugh, To see the rain upon the grass,

The children now may run and play, Upon the beach by which they stay,

I know the summer days are here, to stay, at last.

STOP! LOOK!

Bob Mosey,
Grade VIII, Stuart Scott School

Would you like to live to the year 2000? Such breath-taking changes have taken place in this world of ours since the year 1900 that we of the younger generation look forward eagerly to the developments of the next 50 years.

If, however, we hope to see the turn of the century, we must realize that as the traffic increases the population will decrease unless everyone observes a few safety rules. Every day papers contain news of people who have been seriously injured or killed through their own carelessness. Let us review a few simple rules:

1. Look both ways before crossing the street.

2. Always cross at corners.

3. Always face traffic when walking on the road or highway.

4. Never ride two on a bicycle. (The modern bicycle was not built for two.)

5. Remember: railway tracks are for trains; roads are for cars and bicycles; the pond is for fish; the sidewalk for you and me.

Let us make plans now to attend our class reunion in the year 2000 — during Education Week—in the Newmarket city hall.

To err is human . . . but often painful.

THE COLLISION

Malcome Olsen,

There was a boy and his name

Who was out of school with a good excuse.
A tree jumped out and hit his toboggan.
Bruce broke his leg — lucky not

OUR FIREMEN

Barbara Gibson,
Grade VII, Stuart Scott School

What is more thrilling than to have the fire truck go along your street! You jump on your bike, and follow it with your heart thumping with excitement, but what is more terrifying than to hear the fire whistle in the middle of the night!

I wonder if we fully appreciate the work of our firemen. We see them as a group of men immaculately dressed in blue uniforms, ushering at our hockey matches and taking part in a parade. We are very proud of them, but when that whistle blows in the middle of the night, they jump, don high rubber boots, rain coats and hats, and rush out perhaps into sub-zero weather. There is a worry and excitement in that home. How bad is the fire? Will they be hurt? How long will they be gone? What do we do? We count the whistles, look at our fire alarm card, and look out the window. If we can't see any flame, we conclude it is a chimney fire and go back to our warm beds.

Sixty-two years ago Newmarket had its first fire hose. They were wound around a cart drawn by men. There were about 50 members in the brigade. Now with new, modernized equipment they have 20 members and one of the most modern equipped fire trucks.

During the winter months they have general meetings, and in the summer practise meetings.

Have you ever walked through the Lions park on a beautiful summer evening? You can see people playing tennis, lawn bowling, or watching a real good softball game, but farther over at the Stuart Scott school a group of men are struggling with heavy hose and ladders. Those are our firemen.

They have their social times too. The firemen's picnic in the summer, Christmas tree for their children, and the annual firemen's euchre and dance which are happy occasions.

Every night we read in our daily paper where homes — yes, even lives — have been destroyed by fire. We do thank God that Newmarket has been spared such tragedies. We know not the day or hour when we will need the help of our fire brigade, which holds the best record of any voluntary fire department for a town the size of Newmarket. Let us give them our whole-hearted support.

WISE SAYINGS ON EDUCATION

Frank Wheeler

Jails and prisons are the complement of schools; so many less as you have of the latter so many more you have of the former.

EDITORIAL
TO DRAPE OR NOT TO DRAPE

Faisy Cock

In many parts of the world people are pondering the H-bomb, and its possible uses.

But many of our flighty pals in these parts are engaged in violent arguments with their elders on another timely question. It is, shall we please our parents by wearing conventional slacks, or shall we join the emancipated zoot suit clan who appear in loud eye-catching drapes.

To express an opinion on either side would bring upon me such a storm of protest and criticism that I decline from doing so.

Our staid elders are loud in their criticism of this latest fad, fondly thinking of the good old days of lace bustles and frills. "Nowadays," they exclaim in horror, "a teen-ager wears those hideous 'dresses' and 'eisenhousers'."

Teen-agers are just as stout in their protests that drapes are just the best thing that ever happened to the be-bop set.

We all recognize that styles for the young change through the ages with accompanied groans from their superiors.

We can easily imagine the cave girl's grandmother grunting her disgust at a two-piece beardskin.

HOCKEY

Grade VIII Alex. Muir School
There are many different kinds of sports, but I like hockey best.

Some of the players were not interested in the game as a child but they make a living of it now.

Hockey equipment really "takes a beating" in the "hot" incidents of every game of big time hockey. Fast skating, instant turns, collisions, spills and immediate stops impose terrific strains on skates and shoes.

There are Squirts, Pee Wees, Bantams, Midgets, etc. All are making their way up to the top.

They go to hockey camps to get into condition for a try-out with professional teams.

The condition of a player is most important. If the defence man had to skate fast and wasn't in condition, he would get short-

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Shirley Bearce

We are in Canada are fortunate that every girl and boy is able to attend a good school. We should all remember that two out of every three children in the world do not have the same opportunities as we have of learning how to read and write. Most of us like school but the burden of homework may sometimes raise a doubt in our minds. We should remember that we will get out of our schooling no more than we put into it.

Today the world is making desperate efforts to recover from the second world war. We can prevent another war only by changing our present attitudes. Every individual should see that he assumes his share of responsibility either at school, church or home. We must practise to be generous, fair, decent and considerate to others.

Some have damaged town property or destroyed beauty and orderliness by scattering paper around. Some automobile drivers are inconsiderate to others. Some wait for others to clean off the ice after the hockey game or make all the preparations for the party. One could think of many other ways in which people could be better citizens.

Remember, you are not too young to do your part and you'll find that you will be richly repaid in the satisfaction of sharing the activities of your club or group. Good deeds and good thoughts are not forgotten or wasted.

The effect will indeed be great and we will have the share of preventing new wars if we practise day by day the principles of good citizenship.

I wonder why they call it spring, these bright days of the year? When all the robins start to sing and send out their good cheer,

When all the trees and flowers bloom and things begin to grow, it knows where it should go.

It may be that they call it spring because things just spring up,

Each little flower, bud and leaf and golden buttercup.

TOLD THE TEACHER

Wendy Davis

Grade III, Stuart Scott School

A little boy had spent his first day at school.

"What did you learn?" asked his mother.

" Didn't learn anything."

"Well, what did you do?"

" Didn't do anything. There was a lady there who wanted to know how to spell cat, so I told her."

Miss Clara Kitmer, public health nurse, is making routine inspections of pupils at the Alexander Muir school. Bill Gardner is receiving the nurse's attention while Margaret Maynard is resting on the couch. Margaret was found to have a slight temperature a few minutes before this picture was taken. ### TRIPS OR VISITS THAT I HAVE TAKEN

When I Went to North Bay

Gary Eagler

Grade V, Alexander Muir School
When I went to North Bay I went over to Algoma Park where I saw a deer. He stood on the road and then ran into the woods and that was all we saw.

Another time we went up to the airport to see planes come in and go out. But as there weren't any planes coming in for an hour we went down to the lookout tower and from there we could see all of North Bay.

NURSING AS AN IDEAL CAREER

Margaret Winter

When I was younger and still now I thought I would like to be a nurse. I would fix any wounds. If anyone got cut or hurt, I would like to fix them up.

I don't want to be a nurse just for the money and glory, but to help save lives of other people who have been badly hurt.

If I do get to be a nurse, I would like to go to foreign lands like China or India because that is where I am needed most. That is where the people can not help themselves, where their homes have been destroyed by wars and floods. If they could be helped, their country would rise and prosper.

This cannot be done if they are weak and sick. If they could get nurses and doctors over there, they would be healthy again, a new life would dawn, a new country would be born.

I know that I could not do this alone, but possibly there are others who would like to help. Some say I should not. If it is possible, I will go ahead and do my best. Everyone is put here for a purpose. I think I have found mine.

GIRL GUIDES

Marlene Martin

Grade VIII, Alex. Muir School

Everyone has heard of family reunions when many members of the family travel from far and near to get together for a few days. They meet to talk over old times and what they plan to do in the future. If you have ever been to a family reunion yourself you know how pleasant it is to be a part of it. Canada's Girl Guides took part in just such a gathering last summer when a very large family held its 12th reunion—the Girl Guides and the Girl Scouts of the world. The world chief Guide is Lady Baden-Powell.

A Girl Guide is really the same as a Girl Scout. Each one promises to be loyal to God and her country and to try to be a good citizen, helping other people at all times. Whatever her name, or her race or religion, she makes the same promise and follows the same rules.

She learns all sorts of useful things and has an exciting time of it hiking and camping—learning how to get along in the outdoors by using woodcraft knowledge.

Sometimes a Girl Guide goes to a camp in another country and brings home interesting news. She discovers how the Guides abroad live, what they like to do and what they like to eat. This is one way in which she learns to understand and to work with others for the good of all.

At the world conference in Cooperstown the representatives held their meetings for ten days. There they decided to have a world membership pin which Girl Guides anywhere may wear. They will also exchange films from country to country so that Girl Guides may learn more about each other.

At Girl Guide camps I like their evening campfires. One evening a world friendship ceremony was held around a huge campfire. All were dressed in their national costumes and carried the flags of the 26 countries which were represented. The representatives of each country threw a bundle of sticks into the fire and made a wish for world peace, absent friends and good Guiding. Every morning when the flags are raised on the big flagstaff each one renews her promise.

Not long ago a Guide leader went by plane into the Arctic to help the leaders there. Do you think you would like to be a Guide? If you are not be kind and do your best at anytime helping others.

MY CAT

Royden Wood

Grade V, Alexander Muir School
My cat had two kittens. When the kittens had their eyes open and could run around she took them across the road.

We could not find them anywhere. Then one day when I was out picking blackberries, I saw something run out of the bush. It was the kittens. My cat was teaching them to catch mice.

MAPLE SUGAR

Marlene Evans

Grade VII, Alex. Muir School
When the first white people came to Canada they found the Indians making sugar from the sap of the maple tree. They soon learned how, and today maple sugar is made early each spring in the eastern provinces.

To make maple sugar, a hole is bored into the trunk of the hard maple tree. As this hole is just beneath the bark where the sap flows it does not injure the tree.

Buckets are then hung on the tree to catch the sap. The buckets when full are emptied into large barrels and then they are hauled away, emptied

WHAT IS THE RED CROSS?
Faye Russell
Grade V, King George School
Members of the Red Cross both old and young seem to find it hard to realize that the Red Cross is to be found in almost every part of the world. The Canadian Red Cross was one of the first societies to enlist school children into its service. This was in 1914. Since that time the Junior Red Cross movement has spread to 51 countries and enrolled over 15,000,000 members. This is because it is natural for us to think of everything as we know it from our own personal experience.

The Red Cross was born in Geneva 70 years ago. It is no older than many people living today but in this short time it has spread from its birthplace to every civilized country and has enlisted millions and millions of people of every race and color. One of the interesting things about the Red Cross is the very

THE ORIOLE
Jean Harman
Grade V, King George School

The Baltimore oriole was named more than a century and a half ago for Lord Baltimore, the founder of the colony in Maryland, whose family colors were black and orange. Oriole is from a Latin word meaning "golden". Because of its brilliant colors, friendly nature and its pretty whistling song, it has long been a favorite.

The beautiful songster has been called the "Golden Robin". The head, neck and parts of the tail are a glossy black. The wings are black, white and orange. The lower part of its back and its under parts are green above and a dull orange beneath.

The nest of the oriole is like a cleverly woven basket, not very wide but about six inches deep. It is hung on a forked bough near the end of some drooping elm or weeping willow tree branch and sways to and fro in the breeze. Being so far out on the branch it is protected from enemies. Yet the nest is so securely fastened that it will not blow down even in a storm.

It is woven of bits of plant-fibres, string, horsehair, rags and grass. Mrs. Oriole does all the weaving. It is sometimes lined daintily with silk from the milkweed. In it we find four to six pearly white eggs with curious brown markings.

The Baltimore oriole eats large numbers of caterpillars, grasshoppers, ants and beetles. The orchard oriole helps the farmer by destroying harmful insects on the fruit trees. He has been called the "friend of the orchard".

Often he will kill the caterpillars and only eat a few choice parts. In this way he destroys many more insects than he could possibly eat if he swallowed them whole.

MAKING A TAILES KITE

Bobby Knowles
Grade V, King George School

To make a simple, tailes kite, take two sticks of the same length for a frame. The up-and-down stick is the spine. The cross stick is called the bow.

The bow is placed across the spine about one-fifth of the way down from the top. The bow and spine are then fastened together at the place where they cross. This is done by winding string around the sticks in both directions. Then the string is wound between the sticks around the other windings. The top or bottom of the spine should be notched and a string tied at the point where the notch is made. All other ends of the sticks should be notched and the string passed around the kite through the notches until it comes to the place where it was tied. Here it should be tied.

One side of the bow must be just as long as the other. If one side does not match the other, the kite will be out of balance. Then paper may be used for a covering. The cover should be cut about an inch larger each way than the frame of the kite. This allows the edge to be turned over the string and pasted down. The cover of the kite should not be tight. It should be loose enough to spread out a little as the wind touches the kite.

MASTER OF MUSIC

Robert Daniell
Grade V, King George School

Edward MacDowell was born in New York. At the age of 15 he went with his mother to Paris where he passed five examinations for entrance to the French Conservatory and learned the French language in a short time so as to understand the teachers and lecturers.

After a good many days of thinking he decided his life should be given to music. After study of the piano in Paris, MacDowell went to Frankfort for two years. He had many pupils there and to one of them he was married.

His fingers were like velvet on the keys of the piano and everyone declared he must take part in a grand American concert that was to be given during the Paris Exposition.

MacDowell became a professor of music in Columbia College. His piano pieces were played the world over. Some of his music is heavy and grand, but more of it is delicate. It was wonderful to hear MacDowell play "To a Wild Rose".

This man loved outdoor life, so he bought a farm at Peterboro, New Hampshire. He built a log cabin away off in the woods and had a grand piano carried there. Here in the quiet forest he wrote some of the sweetest musical sketches.

MacDowell worked too steadily and died when he was quite young. This man had written enough music to be remembered as a great American composer.

SOME INDIANS OF LONG AGO

Jean Sutton
Grade V, King George School

I would like to tell you about Indians who lived in our country long ago. These Indians lived in the woods. So they used bark from trees for many things.

Indian men like to hunt. They killed wild animals for food. They used skins of the animals for clothes. The woods around them were filled with deer, bears, raccoons, rabbits, woodchucks and many other animals.

Early in the morning they would go out to hunt. At night they would bring home the animals that they had killed.

The Indian women would skin the animals and cook the meat over a campfire. Then everyone would have a good dinner. The women had much hard work and they also had to take care of their babies. An Indian cradle was made of a straight piece of wood. The baby was tied to the cradle with strong cords made from soft skin of a deer.

When an Indian mother was at work, she would put her baby in a cradle. She would stand the cradle against a tree or the side of the house.

When she went anywhere she would carry the baby and cradle on her back.

A moccasin is a kind of shoe made out of deerskin or other soft leather. They would take the hair off the skins with a sharp shell or a sharp stone. Then they would rub and pull the skins until they were soft.

Clothes made from skins of animals would wear for a long time. So you see the skins of animals made very good clothes for the Indians.

These Indians ate vegetables as well as meat. They ate the wild rice that grew near the rivers. They had no plows so they would make holes with sticks or with sharp stones or shells. Then they would plant the seeds of corn, beans or pumpkins in these holes.

Every spring they would cut holes in the maple trees and let the sap run out. They would catch the sap in pails made of wood. They would drop hot stones into the pails so that the sap would cook. They would cook the sap in this way until it turned to sugar. Maple sugar was their candy.

SCOTT TWP. COUNCIL

At the March meeting of Scott township council held on March 4, all members were present.

Broad-Graham that hydro contract of G. B. Armstrong be accepted.

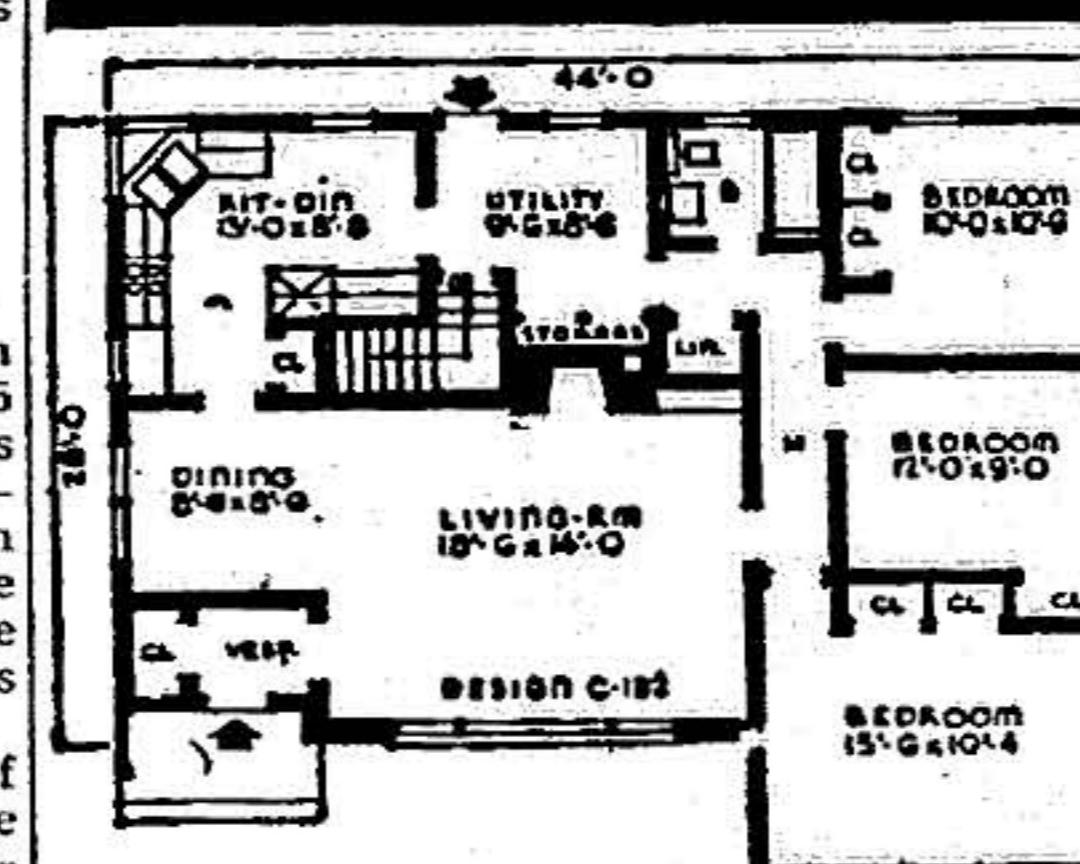

Bain-Meyers that council purchase 5,000 feet snow fence, 450 posts from Model Fence Co.

Graham-Broad that the deduction made from levy of Federation of Agriculture levy be divided between clerk and treasurer—extra services.

A proposal for joining with the Town of Uxbridge for fire protection service was presented and discussed at length. No decision arrived at.

By-law was passed authorizing the reeve and treasurer to borrow up to $25,000 from Dominion Bank, Mount Albert, for current expenses till taxes are collected.

Council decided to join with the county in getting crushed gravel.

Small House Plans . . .

THE ABBEY
has three bedrooms and bath, a large living-room with dining alcove and a kitchen with dining space. The full basement has stairs leading down to form a utility room with cabinets for coats and storage, and room for a lavatory against the bathroom wall.

When the laundry equipment and heating plant are placed in an enlarged utility room, making use of the fireplace chimney, the basement can be eliminated. An alternate sketch without basement stairs may be had on request.

The bedrooms have wardrobe closets, the hall a linen closet, the kitchen a closet and the entrance vestibule a coat closet. The living-room has a double glazed picture window, book shelves and cross light from the dining alcove.

The exterior finish is wide siding except the stone faced living-room wall. Low, simple roof lines extend over the recessed entrance.

Overall dimensions are 44' by 34'. Floor area is 1,319 square feet and volume 25,572 cubic feet, including basement.
